RALPH McGILL

The Sacker Of Generals

Abraham Lincoln was the greatest "sacker" of generals. . . .

The gaunt, heavily burdened man in the White House looked longingly at the Southern generals, the men who could fight and win, as the cruel years came and went in the tragic war which extremists made.

He had agreed with fat old Winfield Scott . . . the Virginian Lee who had done so well in Mexico, and since, would be a man to whom command of the Federal troops could be offered. It was cleared with Lincoln. And the offer was made.

The troubled Virginian, who did not like slavery, who did not believe in secession, who wanted mostly to remain in the army he loved, refused it. His loyalty was to his state.

It is one of the wry ironies of history that Jefferson Davis, who did not bear burdens easily, did not turn fully to Lee until all but a glimmer of hope was gone. There was always Braxton Bragg's voice in the Davis ear. And Gen. Lee had, even as they said, made a poor start in the early days of the war in West Virginia.

One Wonders

One wonders what the history of that war might have been had Gen. Lee followed his instincts and remained with the flag and the union? We know he prayed almost literally the whole night through before he decided. He fought out the battle in an upstairs bedroom. When he came down he had his resignation in his hand. After that he never, by so much as a syllable, revealed his innermost thoughts. If he had regrets or joys he never showed them. Only once did he say an enigmatic, never-explained phrase. "I'm always wanting something," he said.

What it was he wanted none knows save God who heard his prayers.

Without Lee, Abraham Lincoln was long suffering and patient. But he sacked generals—until he found an unlikely man with a poor reputation for doing things and for being a drunkard.

The Army of the Potomac was a magnificent army. It operated in the East, mostly in Virginia. It was near to breaking more than once. But it never broke. It was this army's fate to have many generals.

Most of these were, in effect, sacked by Gen. Robert E. Lee . . . though the official word came from Lincoln himself.

There was Gen. George B. McClellan. The army loved him. He marched and he prepared. He asked for more men. He delayed and waited. Lincoln, trying to be patient, said of him, "He's got the slows. He's got the slows."

At Sharpsburg

At Sharpsburg Lee routed him. They brought along Gen. A. E. Burnside. He lasted less than a month. At Fredericksburg Gen. Lee's army all but destroyed him and his host of men. Burnside was sacked.

They then gave command to Gen. Joe Hooker, whom they called "Fighting Joe." This was in January of 1863. They broke winter quarters in the spring. At Chancellorsville Joe Hooker moved the men he had called "The finest army on the planet," against Lee. When the battle was done Lincoln knew he needed another general for a defeated army.

George Meade, "the goggle-eyed old snapping turtle," was the choice. A messenger reached his tent at three o'clock in the morning with an urgent order. He put on his spectacles and read it by candle light.

He took command at Gettysburg. It was three days before patrols of the armies met, fought a skirmish and caused the Federals to take position on the round tops and the ridges between them. There the first battle came . . . on July 1.

No more generals were sacked from the Army of the Potomac.

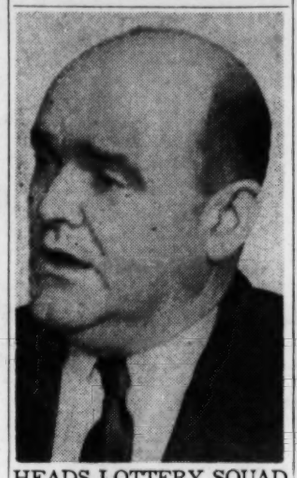

Lincoln had "found his general" in the unlikely, taciturn bearded man called U. S. Grant. George Meade served on under him until the end.

Who was the greatest soldier of that war? Gen. Lee thought it was a man he had never seen—Nathan Bedford Forrest. And Forrest, like Lee himself, never had the full support of the Confederate White House.

DeKalb Approves All Bonds Except Courthouse Issue

By HAROLD RHODEN

DeKalb County voters Wednesday rejected a proposed $3.5 million courthouse annex but approved eight other projects in the $15.8 million bond issue.

HEADS LOTTERY SQUAD
Capt. E. O. Mullen

Officials said it was the first time since 1937 that a portion of a bond issue had failed to carry in the county.

With all 40 precincts reported, unofficial returns on the nine projects were:

Public roads, $5,500,000: 7,049 for; 4,032 against.

Sewers, $3,500,000: 6,301 for; 4,728 against.

Courthouse annex, $3,500,000: 4,472 for; 6,363 against.

Hospital, $1,405,000: 7,030 for; 4,090 against.

Public health centers, $95,000: 6,720 for; 4,322 against.

Parks, $1,000,000: 5,919 for; 5,078 against.

Water system, $500,000: 6,557 for; 4,448 against.

Juvenile home, $150,000: 6,967 for; 4,108 against.

Fire stations, $180,000: 6,712 for; 4,294 against.

ABOUT 11,000 VOTE

About 11,000 votes were cast in the bond issue. Politicians had estimated that 12,000 would vote. DeKalb County has more than 62,000 registered voters.

The issue receiving the strongest public support was public roads, with 7,049 persons voting for it. Next came the hospital with 7,030 supporting it.

NEW COURTHOUSE VOTE?

"The county commissioners will consider calling another bond election in the future for the courthouse project," Commission Chairman Claude H. Blount said. "Every phase of the courthouse—particularly its location and its structure—will be explained to the people."

Veteran courthouse observers said they felt controversy over the proposed site and lack of direct contact by the people with the courthouse were the probable

Police Form Undercover Bug Squad

A major reorganization of the Atlanta Police Department keyed to stamping out lottery and "restoring public confidence was ordered by Chief Jenkins Wednesday night.

Capt. E. O. Mullen, former commander of the evening watch, was placed in charge of a special lottery squad.

Jenkins said Mullen will be furnished as many police officers and other personnel as needed from time to time and also would be given "all of the necessary special equipment to aid in efforts at eliminating the lottery operation in this city."

Although Jenkins did not refer directly to Mullen's status at the aldermanic board police committee meeting, it was understood that his duties were entirely separate from the regular vice squad in the Detective Bureau.

The men assigned to Mullen were not identified in the order and it was understood that their identities would not be revealed.

In the special order streamlining the chain of command and delegating functions to subordinates that he heretofore had handled himself, Jenkins designated Supt. James F. Brown, who has served as commanding officer of the uniform division, as chief of personnel and training within the department. Jenkins said Brown will be in sole charge of transfers and assignments of all personnel and will

British Test First H-Bomb Over Pacific

LONDON, May 15 (UP)—Britain exploded its first hydrogen bomb today, dropping it from a great height over the Pacific Ocean to prevent its lethal fallout from contaminating the earth's atmosphere.

The huge "nuclear device" tumbled from a Valiant jet bomber's specially-built bomb-bay at a secret location near Britain's Christmas Island experimental nuclear base in the mid-Pacific just below the Equator.

It made Britain the third among world powers to possess the H-bomb. The others are the United States and Soviet Russia.

The blast climaxed a two-year crash program first authorized by former Prime Minister Anthony Eden and pushed with equal vigor by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, his successor, in spite of bitter protests from Japan, some scientists and British Laborites.

Panel Votes $22,500 To McCarthy's Widow

WASHINGTON, May 15 (UP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today approved a year's salary—$22,500—for the widow of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

This is a customary stipened paid to the widow of a member of Congress who dies while in office.

Beck Profit On Union's Land Is Told

Failed To Swing A $71,500 Gain

WASHINGTON, May 15 (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee heard testimony today that Teamster President Dave Beck and a friend tried to swing a $71,500 profit on the sale of land for the union's swanky new headquarters building here.

The deal, which would have boosted the price of the land, subsequently fell apart. But the testimony indicated that Beck and his associate, Nathan Shefferman, still managed to use it to their advantage.

According to the union records, Beck arranged for the Teamsters to pay Shefferman $12,000 on grounds he had helped hold the price down. Five weeks later, Shefferman sent Beck a check for $8,000.

THIRD ROUND TODAY

After listening to the testimony, the committee announced that the Teamsters boss would be recalled tomorrow for a third round of questioning. Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment 144 times in two previous appearances.

Earlier, the committee brought out evidence that Beck quietly purchased property near the Los Angeles Teamster building and then sold it to the union for $30,000.

It also heard testimony which the committee said made it appear that money Beck took from the union treasury was "stolen rather than borrowed."

AFL-CIO HUDDLE

In other developments:

AFL-CIO President George Meany conferred for an hour with five Teamster vice presidents on "general problems" involving the union. They declined to say whether they discussed the possibility of ousting Beck until corruption charges against him are resolved.

A U.S. Marshal served a second committee subpoena on Norman Gessert, one of four missing witnesses, after a chase through Ellensburg, Wash. The first subpoena turned out to be out of date.

Testimony about the land sale was supplied by Raymond H. Fields, former public relations director for the American Legion, and Franklin Salisbury, now a government attorney.

$5.5 MILLION BUILDING

The Legion owned the land near the Capitol which the Teamsters bought for $15 a square foot. On the site they erected a glass-and-marble $5,500,000 building with a glass-walled office for Beck overlooking the Capitol dome.

Fields, now a Guymon, Okla., publisher, testified that Shefferman, who claimed to be representing Beck, proposed setting up an 'intermediate corporation" to buy the land.

The idea was to resell it to the

$788 Million Paid U.S. by Georgians

U.S. revenue collections in Georgia rose more than 100 million dollars last year—to $788,919,000, more than 2½ times the total state government budget.

Collections were announced Wednesday by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. The Georgia gain of $106,473,000 over the 1955 total of $682,446,000 was somewhat greater than the national increase.

Total U.S. collections rose from roughly 69 to 78 billion.

Georgia stands third in the Southeast. At the top is North Carolina with a 1956 total of $1,736,404,000, made up largely of tobacco taxes. Florida was second with $951 million.

GARDEN PACKED FOR OPENING OF GRAHAM'S NEW YORK CRUSADE
A General View As the Evangelist, Back to Camera, Addresses Throng

A Record 485 Answer Graham's Call in N.Y.

By GEORGE DUGAN
(Copyright 1957 by The New York Times Co.)

NEW YORK, May 15—The gospel came to Madison Square Garden tonight.

It was preached in simple, straight-from-the-shoulder style by the Rev. Dr. Billy Graham—evangelist extraordinary.

With the Bible in one hand and the index finger of the other pointing heavenward, Dr. Graham exhorted his listeners to "find God—because we can never find ourselves until we find Him."

RECORD RESPONSE

At the end of his sermon Graham called for those who would "make decisions for Christ" to come forward. People came by the hundreds.

A count showed 485 had come forward.

Graham said it was the "largest first-night response I have ever seen from the pulpit in America."

"The response was overwhelming," Graham later told a room crowded with about 100 newsmen. "It was beyond anything I had anticipated."

Prayer, he said, was responsible.

SUMMER-LONG

Preaching from a flower-banked platform at the western end of the garden, the 38-year-old evangelist began a series of gospel sermons that he hopes will awaken the spiritual conscience of New York. His crusade is expected to last through the summer.

Graham described a world beset with racial tensions, political impasses, economic problems and moral depravity. All this, he said, because "we are out of touch with God."

The garden revival began with all the solemnity of a Sunday worship service. A 1,500-voice choir sang the gospel hymn "Blessed Assurance." The garden throng of 18,000 persons then joined in singing an old favorite, "All Hail The Power of Jesus' Name."

The scripture lesson, Psalms 33:18-22, was read by the Rev. Dr.

Defense Cut Isn't Honest, Ike Suggests

From Press Dispatches

WASHINGTON, May 15—President Eisenhower warned Congress today that it will plunge the nation into "trouble somewhere along the line" if it goes through with a reported $2,500,000,000 cut in defense spending.

Striving anew to block any "trifling" with his military budget, he challenged a House Appropriations subcommittee to ask itself whether such a cut would be "honest." If it can be done, he said, "Then I am going to be educated again."

Eisenhower shrugged off at a news conference a suggestion that his record peace - time budget means he has "moved somewhat to the left" politically since his first election in 1952.

"Far from it," he said, "if anything, I have grown more conservative."

Eisenhower's new budget warning came less than 24 hours after he told a nationwide radio-TV audience that Congress would be taking a "fearful gamble" if it cut defense spending. He will go on the air again next Tuesday to rally support for his foreign aid program.

Despite his efforts, Congress

Senate Cuts Budget for Propaganda

(Copyright 1957 by The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON, May 15 — The Senate struck more than $100,000,000 from President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget tonight in approving a single omnibus appropriations bill.

A dozen other measures in the whole budget complex are yet to be acted upon.

The Senate thus retorted within 24 hours to the President's declaration of last night to the country that big cuts might involve a "needless gamble" with the safety of the nation.

STATE DEPARTMENT HIT

Specifically, it approved a bill for the State and Justice departments, the federal judiciary and the U.S. Information Agency for a total of $563,085,293, as recommended by its appropriations committee. This was $102,564,509 less than the President had asked and $714,500 less than the House had allowed.

The bulk of the reductions approved by the Senate involved comparatively routine expenditures rather than those classified by the President as affecting the national security.

BLOW FOR IKE

The great exception was one of the President's special favorites, the USIA, which directs our propaganda abroad. The Senate by a vote of 61 to 15 stood with the leadership of both parties and against the President in holding the USIA to $90,200,000. He had asked $144,000,000 and the House had allowed $106,100,000.

This division was the one hot issue in the whole omnibus bill and it ended in a heavy defeat

Benson Looks To Senate for New Chance

By WILLIAM M. BLAIR
(Copyright 1957 by The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON, May 15 — The House voted today to kill the $1,000,000,000 soil bank for farmers after this year.

On a roll call vote of 192 to 187, the congressional economy forces cut down the year-old program by denying funds for its 1958 operation. It refused these funds in the Department of Agriculture budget although the administration had fought for them.

Thirty-eight Republicans joined 154 Democrats against the emergency project designed to gain a reduction in surplus farm crops by paying farmers for retiring cropland. Forty-six Democrats and 141 Republicans were for continuing the program.

The House action was viewed by some members as a rebuff to President Eisenhower, who appealed last night for public support of his federal budget. Others believed that the Senate would overturn the House action and that the House ultimately would restore the soil bank.

All members of the Georgia delegation except Rep. Lanham of Rome voted for the amendment that struck out appropriations for soil bank operations in 1958.

Agriculture Secretary Benson had said he would look to the Senate if the House struck down the soil bank. He advocates the plan as a means of helping to bring about a better balance between farm production and consumption.

(In Georgia, nearly 50,000 contracts have been signed in 1957 under the acreage reserve section of the soil bank. Georgia farmers will receive about $19,250,879 for taking around 380,000 acres out of production.

(Under the soil bank's conservation reserve program, 5,058 contracts have been signed in Georgia, taking 239,130 acres out of row crop production. For this, state farmers will get $1,854,901

1,400 Sent Home At Russell High In Bomb Scare

A bomb scare sent 1,400 children home from East Point's Russell High School an hour and a half early Wednesday while policemen and firemen searched the building from basement to attic.

No trace of any explosive or incendiary was found. Officials attributed the scare to "a crank of some kind, perhaps a juvenile prankster."

Police Sgt. J. L. Holt said a man telephoned the East Point police and fire departments and said: "A bomb has been placed in Russell High School. You'd better see that the people are cleared out of there."

Thundershowers And 80s Staying

Another two days of warm and humid weather with scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers are forecast for Atlanta Thursday and Friday.

Temperatures will range from morning lows of 64 degrees on both days to a high of 85 Thursday and a high of 86 Friday. Extremes in Atlanta Wednesday were 65 and 84, the Weather Bureau said.

Hail, which fell in scattered sections of northwest Atlanta Wednesday, is expected to accompany Thursday's and Friday's thunderstorms, the weatherman said.

Giant Carrier FDR Limps Home After Mystery Collision in Atlantic

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 15 (UP) — The 68,000 - ton carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt limped back to the carrier base at Mayport near here today in a shroud of secrecy after experiencing a "minor engineering casualty" at sea.

Earlier reports that the giant carrier had hit a submarine were discounted both by Capt. T. W. Hopkins of the FDR and by Capt. S.S. Searcy, chief of staff to the commander of Fleet Air, Jacksonville.

But neither spokesman would discuss details of a report of the incident which Hopkins made to Adm. Delbert S. Cornwell, and Cornwell was not available to newsmen.

Hopkins said, "I don't know what happened. I made my report to Admiral Cornwell, and I can't say much other than to say there were no submarines or anything like that . . . not at all." The only possibility he mentioned was that the ship "could have" hit a whale, but he did not elaborate.

(One usually reliable source here, who asked not to be identified, said a "whale couldn't do any damage to a ship as big as the FDR and probably wouldn't even be felt if one was hit.

(The source said destroyers and planes have been sent to the scene to make radar runs on the area to help determine the cause. "Do you think they'd be doing this if they thought it was a whale?" the source asked.

(The source said also that a Navy diver has been inspecting the ship and that there is one report that a Navy blimp was sent to the scene of the incident.)

Hopkins said the ship "shuddered" on impact with whatever it struck, some 40 miles east of the coast, and Hopkins did not deny a report that an oil slick formed after the incident. But he said "I don't ascribe this to anything of a foreign nature or source."

He refused to comment on the investigation taking place or to say whether any evidence of the cause of the "engineering casualty" was found.

He and Searcy also refused to estimate the amount of damage done to the FDR or whether it would require repairs extensive enough to cause the ship to go into drydock.

Fulton Holds Tax Rate For Year at Old Level

By RICHARD ASHWORTH

Fulton County commissioners Wednesday set the 1957 tax rate at the same level as last year.

The commissioners expressed hopes their action might enable them next year to finance retirement of part of the county's new 35-million-dollar bond issue without increasing bond retirement levies.

This is the first time in three years the commissioners have failed to cut the county tax rate.

Budget officials said that because of increased budgetary expenditures of more than one million dollars, and because cash requirements to retire bonds are higher, there could be no tax cut without substantially depleting cash reserves.

And to deplete cash reserves now might mean taxes would have to be increased substantially next year when the county must begin financing its new bonds, they added.

The commissioners agreed on a rate which will require levying 20.75 mills inside Atlanta and 45.25 mills in the county outside Atlanta.

The over-all levy did include one cut—amounting to one-fourth of a mill—for hospital purposes. But there was an offsetting increase of one-fourth mill in the county bond retirement levy.

Comptroller John Still told the commissioners requirements to retire 1952 bonds have increased.

Mollet Labels U.S. Deserter Over Suez

French Leader Attempts To Resign on Canal Issue

PARIS, May 15 (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet said tonight he felt France had been deserted by the United States and Britain on the Suez issue. He attempted to resign after 16 months in office, a postwar record in France.

Persuaded by President Rene Coty to stay in office, the Premier and the Cabinet then decided in a stormy session to ask the U.N. Security Council as soon as possible to order Egypt to observe the six principles it approved last October for safeguarding free passage to all nations through the Suez Canal.

Mollet indicated he felt he should resign because his leadership had isolated France on a vital issue.

In a statement to newsmen, the Premier indicated he felt most keenly the decision by Britain—France's partner in the ill-starred Suez invasion last fall—to bow to Egyptian President Nasser's terms for operation of the canal.

BRITISH PAY

The British government has authorized British-flag ships to use the canal again, paying tolls in sterling to Egypt and without protest. Other members of the Suez Canal Users Assn. also have knuckled under, removing the official discouragements from shippers' use of the canal but paying under protest. France alone has stuck to her boycott of the waterway.

Bitterly, Mollet said in his statement that the decision by the others to accept Nasser's conditions without any minimum guarantee on the right of passage or commitment by Egypt on the division of tolls was "a flagrant contradiction" of the six principles of last October.

He said these principles had been specifically upheld by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and British officials. Mollet implied Britain and the United States were backing down on their word.

Mollet's dramatic gesture came as Israel apparently was preparing to send a "test ship" to the Suez Canal to seek passage through the waterway.

PREPARE TEST

An Israeli spokesman in Jerusalem has announced that such a test is being prepared and that Israel and France were coordinating plans on such a policy. The Israeli ambassador met with Mollet earlier today.

Egypt has indicated she would prevent Israeli shipping from using the canal because she still considers herself in a technical state of war with Israel despite an armistice signed eight years ago.

Israel has declared that if her test ship were stopped by Egypt it would be an act of war.

British Prime Miniser Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons in London today Israel's right of passage through the canal "must be assured" and that Britain would do everything possible "through the U.N. and with our friends" to see that Israel obtained her rights.

Macmillan was defending the life of his government against Labor censure charges on Suez policy. But his government was not likely to fall, even though some of his Conservatives have revolted.

New Orleans Segregation Ruled Void

Case Involves Park, Street Cars, Buses

NEW ORLEANS, May 15 (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright today declared unconstitutional all city and state laws calling for segregation of the races in City Park, and on street cars and buses in New Orleans.

Wright said he will issue permanent injunctions to stop enforcement of the laws. Attorneys for the city said they had been informed by the court the injunction would not be issued until all appeals are exhausted.

Lawyers representing the city said they will appeal.

Judge Wright ruled after hearing arguments in the two separate cases.

The City Park case came to court today on a motion by William P. Schuler, assistant attorney general for Louisiana, to dismiss it.

The state intervened several weeks ago at the direction of the court.

Wright said the questions of law involved in the City Park case were settled by previous rulings.

Retreating Ike Puts Lee In U.S. History's Top 4

By W. H. LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1957 by The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON, May 15—President Eisenhower today nominated Gen. Robert E. Lee as one of "four top Americans of the past."

By this news conference declaration, he beat a quick strategic retreat from his criticism that had stirred Southern wrath.

Last weekend on a tour of the Gettysburg battlefield with Viscount Montgomery, his World War II British forces commander, the President agreed that both Generals Lee and George G. Meade, the Northern commander, should have been "sacked" for mistakes made there.

VOLUNTEERS STATEMENT

Today, the President volunteered the statement that General Lee's picture hung on the wall of his White House office along with pictures or prints of Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, and Abraham Lincoln.

These are, said Eisenhower, men that "I consider in my book are about the four top Americans of the past."

". . . and anybody who ever tries to put me in any other relationship with respect to General Lee is mistaken," he added.

The reassessment by Eisenhower and Montgomery of how Northern and Southern commanders ought to have fought the Battle of Gettysburg was raised in an indirect way at the presidential news conference.

ALLIES' MISTAKES?

A reporter wanted to know if Eisenhower, who had been Supreme Allied Commander in Europe during World War II, "looking back" could see "any major thing that you think the Allies could have done differently."

"Oh well, yes, of course, all the time," the President responded. "There is—but no one knows the answer. It is awfully hard to quarrel . . . with victory. And as long as one plan brought victory in a thing that is so serious as war, it is pretty hard to prove that another plan would have brought it earlier."

Then the President volunteered his remarks about the four pictures, including General Lee, in his office.

Monty Explains: Lee Had Bad Day

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 15 (AP)—Advancing in the face of fire, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery descended into the heartland of his Southern critics today. He stuck by his guns.

Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee, he explained, simply had a bad day at Gettysburg.

"I think he was a great soldier and a great gentleman," the British hero of El Alamein added as he landed at Maxwell Air Force Base.

Montgomery and President Eisenhower stirred up the historic and emotional sensibilities of the South Sunday by agreeing that both Union and Confederate commanders at Gettysburg should have been "sacked."

Montgomery will deliver off-the-record lectures to the Air War College and the Air Command and Staff School at Maxwell tomorrow.

Father Finds 3 Youngsters And Wife Hacked to Death

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 15 (AP)—A husband found the bodies of his wife and three young children, slain in a butcher knife massacre, in their home today. Authorties said it appeared "no outside persons" were involved in the mass killing.

George W. Conley, worried because his wife had not answered the telephone, arrived home from work shortly after noon and found her lying on the living room floor, a butcher knife driven through her chest and into her heart.

The hacked, slashed bodies of his daughter, Rebecca, 6, and his son, Matthew, 4, lay close to their mother, Elizabeth, 33.

In a bedroom, the anguished father found his youngest son, John, 2, clad in pajamas and murdered by a knife thrust into his chest like his brother and sister.

Deputy Coroner F. Dale Nelson would not say whether it was an apparent case of mass murder and suicide.

Shortly before Conley returned home, police received a call from an hysterical woman who had apparently seen the bodies through a window.

Sgt. Alex Krupa said the woman blurted, "I walked in the house and the mother and two children are dead."

"I asked her 'Was it two children?' and she said 'Oh, my God, I've got to check on the third one'," Krupa said. "Then she hung up."

Nelson said the mother and children apparently died between 9 and 10 a.m. shortly after Conley left for his job as a laboratory worker at the U.S. Rubber Co. plant in nearby Mishawaka, Ind.

Grady Wilson, Billy Graham's associate evangelist.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Phillips Packer Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn and president of the Protestant Council of the city of New York. The council is sponsoring the New York crusade.

Graham was introduced by Roger Hull, chairman of the crusade executive committee and vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

There were no shouted "amens," no "halleluias." The decorum befit a Park Avenue house of worship.

The title of Graham's sermon was "The Christian Answer to the World Dilemma."

'ONLY MESSENGER'

He emphasized at the outset that "night after night here in this garden I intend to be only a messenger to give God's message to the people of New York."

Graham said that nervous tension, revolt against all restraints and a terrible gnawing fear" fills the present generation.

"We have become a nation of pill takers," he declared. "We take tranquilizing drugs to keep us steady in the daytime and sleeping pills to put us to sleep at night, with hundreds of aspirins thrown in between."

The evangelist promised that each night his messages would be based on the Bible, "which I believe to be the inspired word of God."

"I am convinced that there is a great hunger on the part of the average person to know what the Bible says," he said.

There is a "sense of futility and despair abroad, a feeling that somehow we have missed the boat, that we are on the wrong track," he asserted.

"Life can be sweet, smooth and sassy, like our modern cars, but if we have lost the key, we can't go any place," Graham said.

LOST CONTACT

"We have missed it somewhere. Instead of our problems decreasing, they are multiplying. The simple truth is we have lost contact with the supernatural, with the harmonizer and coordinator of the universe. Like an aircraft in a storm, which has lost contact with the control tower, we are circling, ever circling with our moral visibility zero.

"Somehow we have lost our anchorage, our moorings, our moral direction, our spiritual sensibilities."

The evangelist declared that philosophers, scientists, diplomats, political leaders and intellectuals are all beginning to say with one voice; "We need God."

Deploring the trend toward secularism, he added:

"We Americans are adept in the art of escapism. We try to escape into a dream world of hope, drink, tranquilizing pills and entertainment.

"Bent on self-forgetfulness, people flee from themselves to become lost in thecrowd. Our literature, despite its pretense at realism, is marked by a flight from reality.

"The heroes of many of our modern fiction and films are spiritually homeless. Our television programs reflect our preoccupation with psychopathic problems. We are concerned about the growing abnormalities of modern man.

"Phychiatrists are so overworked that they are now going to each other for treatment."

Graham said that the word "sin" has become almost taboo "even in some of our preaching."

"This," he declared, "has become one of the greatest fallacies of our time.

"The Bible says the root cause of the problem of the human race is sin and the cure repentance, turning from sin. That law has never been repealed.

Polio Down 41 Pct. Here; Adults Urged To Get Shots

By KATHERINE BARNWELL

Polio cases decreased 41 per cent in Fulton and DeKalb counties last year—but failure of young adults in this area to be vaccinated against polio is "a real problem," an official of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Wednesday.

Edgar J. Forio

Edgar J. Forio, chairman of the Fulton-DeKalb Chapter of the Foundation, said the "percentage of immunization among young adults is so low that it is causing much concern."

Reporting at the annual meeting of the Fulton - DeKalb Chapter, Forio said high school and college students as well as all others under 40 years of age should be protected by Salk vaccine.

Forio said there were 67 new cases of polio reported in Fulton and DeKalb counties last year—compared with 112 the previous year.

He said 363 polio patients (including many stricken in previous years) received financial aid last year from the Fulton-DeKalb Chapter.

The chairman said much progress has been made in the immunization of children in the two counties. He noted more than 324,000 shots of vaccine have been given in Fulton County and more than 106,000 have been given in DeKalb County.

VACCINATION CAMPAIGN

Dr. William F. Friedewald, chairman of the medical advisory committee of the Fulton-DeKalb Chapter, said the medical profession is sponsoring a campaign to get all persons under 40 vaccinated. He said doctors plan to continue giving the vaccine "through the summer."

Dr. Friedewald said about 59,000,000 people in the nation have had at least one shot of Salk vaccine. He explained that total represents about half of all persons under 40.

He stressed there has been no serious reaction to the Salk vaccine in the past year and there is no doubt about its safety. He said there also appears to be an adequate supply "at the present rate of demand."

Dr. Eleanor Petrie, assistant DeKalb County health director, reported a campaign is under way in DeKalb to get young adults vaccinated—and 5,406 shots have been given adults in clinics sponsored by the local medical society.

$117,000 SPENT LOCALLY

Baxter Maddox, treasurer of the Fulton-DeKalb Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said $117,000 was spent by the chapter for patient aid last year. The gross total collected in the 1957 March of Dimes was $226,748—but half of that amount went to national headquarters for research and other purposes.

Ernest Rogers, state chairman of the March of Dimes, was awarded a certificate for his "outstanding leadership." J. Kelly Mosley, Fulton chairman, and Charles J. Lyon, DeKalb chairman of the drive, also were awarded certificates of appreciation.

Forio was reelected chairman of the chapter. Other officers elected are: Jesse Draper, Charles Lyon and Mrs. H. Armin Maier Jr., vice chairmen; Jim Cherry, secretary; Baxter Maddox, treasurer, and Ben Burgess, Virgil W. Milton, Mrs. Horace Powell and Fred Turner, members of the executive committee. Miss Anna Kothe was reelected executive director.

New members elected to the board of directors include: D. A. Crawford, Walter Eaves, W. D. Bennett, Erle Cocke Jr., Erwin Baumer, Miss Sara Frances McDonald, Jim R. Cook, Dr. Pierce Harris and Aldine Richardson.

8,000 Vote First Day on Lockheed Contract

About 8,000 workers at Lockheed Aircraft's giant plant in Marietta already had voted Wednesday night in an election to determine whether union members will accept a new contract.

Union leaders have termed the contract the "best yet." The union represents 14,500 hourly paid workers at the plant.

Voting will continue Thursday at the Larry Bell Auditorium in Marietta. The voting will take two days to complete because workers at the plant work in shifts.

The new contract was the subject of two weeks of negotiations by union and management officials. It calls for a wage increase, upgrading of some 125 job classifications, job security and seniority rights, and other fringe benefits.

Representatives of Lockheed's 300-man guard force and management officials Wednesday signed a new contract which called for a wage increase for the guards and fringe benefits.

Tech Is Penalized By Regents' Delay

There is real reason to believe, as responsible alumni and educators indeed do believe, that unless the seemingly paralyzed Board of Regents acts to find a president for Georgia Tech the institution will suffer damage which will require years to repair.

The late president, Blake Van Leer, was in ill health for the last two years of his administration. With his knowledge, a committee had begun looking about for a successor. Yet for about a year and a half since his death Georgia Tech has been without an official president. Dr. Paul Weber, who is acting in the interim, has done a fine job despite the handicap which his present position involves.

No institution can continue for years without an officially appointed administration and not suffer greatly from drift and neglect.

There is evidence, for example, that nuclear installations have by-passed Georgia and gone into Florida where cooperation, decision and administration can be had from the university of that state. There are other reports of losses because there is no officially established administration.

The regents have, without meaning so to do, succeeded in down-grading the office they seek to fill and thereby have made it difficult to attract the caliber of man needed at an institution of Georgia Tech's reputation and position. It is well-known that a good many persons have been interviewed. The man who finally does accept the job must do so despite the knowledge he is a last, somewhat desperate choice.

It reliably is reported that one of the nation's really distinguished scientists, being interviewed, was asked, "Do you think you could administer this position without a Ph.D?" Some of the questions reportedly asked at the interviews have become classic stories told at educational meetings over the country.

A check at the chancellor's office produces the almost unbelievable information that no firm recommendation has yet been made by that office. Apparently all awaits the Board of Regents. And apparently the board, like the chancellor's office, is so paralyzed it cannot make a decision.

There already are signs of serious faculty losses for 1957-58 in addition to losses for 1956-57. These are in addition to the other liabilities brought upon the innocent institution by the "do-nothing" policy.

Georgia Tech must have an administrative head. We do believe we speak for every alumnus and for all the people of the state when we say the Board of Regents can no longer drift and delay.

President's Appeal Was Too Little and Too Late

President Eisenhower at last went to the people in defense of his budget.

We hope not, but in retrospect the conclusion is that though it was a tidy performance it was too late and not effective enough to overcome the tardiness of support.

The budget will suffer. The frightening shadow of new nuclear weapons and the fact that almost everyone now has or is developing access to them likely will operate to save the budget from emasculation as the extreme right wing congressmen would like to see done.

When the vote comes the Senate will save the day for the national defense items. But the school program, which is itself a national defense item when we consider the long-range needs of the country, will be lost. The foreign aid projections will almost certainly suffer. This will, in the months and years ahead, react to our disadvantage. We will all pay for this irresponsible pinching of today which certainly will prove to be one of those penny-saved-and-pound-wasted things.

It has been our position that while the budget could be trimmed a bit, it was not too large. We are quite well enough off as a nation to pay the price of the cold war, which is less costly than a hot war. And we are quite rich enough to educate ourselves.

The President's delay, however, allowed his opposition in Congress to get the bit in its teeth. He should have moved when Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey made his incredible criticism of the budget which he had just helped establish.

By his own indecision, Eisenhower gave the far right wing of his own party and the reactionary elements on the Democratic side reason to believe the President would not fight very hard for his budget. While the White House waited, in indecision, the enemies took possession of the field and established themselves on all the strategic positions in the political terrain. It was not a good show, because when President Eisenhower moved in to attack critics of his budget, he was much worse off than was Gen. Robert E. Lee on that July 3rd day at Gettysburg. He, like Lee, had to charge against heavily entrenched positions.

So, unhappily, the conclusion is it was too late with too little.

The budget will be cut too deeply.

And within two years or less we will pay an exorbitant price for the irresponsible politics of the present.

The battle is not yet wholly lost, but without question the budget is in danger of being overwhelmed. The President will have another try next week and we may hope he will be at least as successful as were the British at Dunkirk.

Concession Falls Short Of Removing Questions

Even Revenue Commissioner T. V. Williams himself now admits the need for "tightening up" of accounting methods for his Illegal Liquor Campaign fund.

This concession on the part of the commissioner, however, does not spread enough oil to calm the raging, rising sea of doubt and suspicion surrounding the matter.

These doubts have been expressed by Gov. Griffin, legislators and the public.

Questions have been raised as to what effect the individual dealer's contributions to the private fund have toward his obtaining a license renewal.

Questions have been raised as to how the money was spent and who received it.

In fact, the very existence of such a fund is riddled with question marks for which a special governor's committee, now adjourned for 10 days, is trying to find the answers.

One thing is for sure. The state can spare itself future headaches of this nature by making what already should be a moral obligation into law. Legislation should be enacted which prohibits any public official from accepting donations from any person or firm with whom he does business.

The federal government already has such a statute.

And speaking of that arm of government, the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit reports progress in obtaining the cooperation of Georgia wholesalers in a plan to stop the flow of sugar to the still. The method is backed with severe penalties for violating orders to report sugar sales. It has worked elsewhere. No private fund is necessary to enforce federal laws. Neither should it be necessary nor tolerated in enforcing state law.

Tomorrow Is Big Day In Cerebral Palsy Fight

Eighty years ago Friday, May 17, in Boston the first telephone switchboard was installed.

In Atlanta tomorrow there will be little if any attention paid to the anniversary of the switchboard, if for no other reason than that tomorrow will be CP Day in our city.

It's the day those who have been newspaper carriers, those who would like to have been and those who should have been will sell the Old Newsboys Edition of The Atlanta Journal-Constitution.

The Variety Club of Atlanta sponsors the project. The Atlanta Constitution and The Atlanta Journal contribute by preparing and printing the special edition.

Every dollar from the sales will be used to support the Atlanta Cerebral Palsy School-Clinic.

Helping children handicapped by cerebral palsy is tedious and expensive.

The part you are invited to play is marked by ease but great importance. You can mark it with generosity Friday when you invest in an Old Newsboys Edition.

Youths Display Talent In Industrial Creations

This is a salute to 25 intelligent teenagers, including Jim Muse and Paul Timms of Russell High School in Atlanta, who won top honors in the high school industrial arts competition just concluded at Rich's.

They will attend a state-wide celebration for the 25 Georgia winners, a luncheon given by the Ford company. Prizes will be presented each.

Jim Muse won with his creation, a small metal turning lathe, and Paul Timms' winning entry was a stained, cherry wood low-boy.

Douglas County's Mitchell Vaughn won with a "highlight" entry of an 18-foot cabin cruiser, built at a cost of not more than $500.

The Atlanta Constitution wishes to congratulate all the winners and again to call attention to the fact that the much-talked about juvenile delinquents come from less than 3 per cent of our teenagers.

Thomaston Citizen Says Post Office Dept. Is Service to the People, Not a Business

Thomaston — A recent Senate committee finding determined that the public pays adequately for the postal service it gets.

It never was intended that through postage revenue itself the cost of operating the postal division of the government was to be defrayed. This department was conceived as a public service to perform similar service as that of the Department of Agriculture or any other division of the government.

Why is it that specific attention is not paid to the types of mail handled? Franked mail, which is terrific, should not ride piggy-back on the harassed public. And no mail that is even remotely considered personal should go free. Why not allow each governmental department and office a certain number of pieces or allocate an annual sum (not to be exceeded) for mailing purposes?

An increase in the postage rate would not be justified.

A CITIZEN.

Crowded Conditions On Trolleys Scored

Atlanta — Here goes the transit company asking for another increase in fare in less than a year! But it will mean a decrease in service because of the fact more people (like the writer) will take to "car pools."

One day this week I got on a No. 10 Cascade trolley about four or five stops from the end of the line. Were there enough seats for the three riders getting on at this stop? No, only one seat.

In the face of this does it look like we should be forced to pay an increase?

Also, in the afternoon at the Georgia Savings Bank Building it often happens that, after waiting anywhere from 10 to 20 minutes or more, when a Cascade trolley finally comes along it will be so crowded that the operator does not even open the door.

However, in the meantime anywhere from four to six, sometimes more, No. 6 and 16 trolleys pass and they are seldom more than half filled—never like the No. 10 trolleys.

MRS. JOHN H. ZIMMERMAN.

Alto Citizen Applauds Verse of Ollie Reeves

Alto—Speaking of poetry and oratory: It is mass insanity that makes us wildly enthusiastic over Lincoln's "government of the people" and forget entirely that he himself was the man who threw such a form of government overboard in favor of fighting volunteers. . . .

Now that there are no "village smithies," nor "spreading chestnut trees" and the old man does not "sit among his boys," we wonder if the modern school kids aren't a bit bewildered at Longfellow's classic but rather stupid poem.

Too many of us are not enjoying our own Ollie Reeves. He is humorous, brilliant and seemingly inexhaustible—a perfect master of the finest of the fine arts—poetry.

FRANCIS L. BAILEY.

'V-E Day Passed By With Little Notice'

Decatur—Twelve years ago last Wednesday, May 8, 1945, I stood quietly on the street of a German village at dusk and was thrilled at the simple sight of lights shining boldly through open windows and automobiles being driven along with their headlights proudly on "bright," because there was no longer any reason to hide. To the Americans and Germans alike, in that small village it was truly a simple group of humble people who thanked God for the privilege of still being alive.

It seems, however, that on May 8, 1957, only 12 years later, most people had forgotten how important that glorious event was—and is—to all of us.

M. T. CLAYTON.

Georgia's Small Towns Face Stern Challenge in Future

In the Jackson Progress-Argus

The alarmists who foresee only dissolution of Georgia's small towns as an end result of the soil bank program have not considered, to paraphrase an old axiom, that what is one town's poison may be another's meat and drink.

With nearly one-third of the state's 903,000-acre cotton allotment currently in the soil bank and with nearly one-half of the state's 159 counties already having shown population losses in the period from 1940 to 1950, there is cause for concern over the state's changing pattern of agricultural economy.

Already the events of the future are beginning to cast their shadows. A migration of farm laborers, particularly Negroes, to neighboring cities or to Eastern and Northern cities is now a certainty. But the movement will not be in wholesale lots. It will not be as large as first predicted.

Businessmen in community centers and county-seat towns will miss the $75-$100 the more industrious Negro families were able to earn weekly during cotton picking season. Sales will slump. But there will be new sales opportunities for the alert and the aggressive businessman.

It has been estimated that for every dollar paid to farmers under the soil bank program, at least $3 would be withdrawn from the state's economy in reduced demand for labor, equipment, seed, fertilizer, ginning and lower retail sales resulting from an impoverished labor force.

Hardest hit of the farming communities will be the small towns built around a gin, filling station and general store. As has been predicted, some of them may become ghost towns and fade off the face of the map.

But the larger towns, like Jackson, that have some balance of industry and agriculture and enough human and financial resources to attract more of the former, should be able with some foresight and planning to make capital of another's adversity.

The people who leave the farm because there is no work there must have somewhere to go. Many of them prefer a small town to a city if employment can be found. Large and small industries are daily seeking areas where the labor force is adequate.

Many of the transplanted farm workers are unskilled laborers, it is true. But a man who can plow a straight furrow can be taught to operate a lathe. A woman who can milk a cow can use the same hands to sew a fancy seam.

Adversity brings out the best in a people. The need for concerted action, for a larger per capita income for the community, for the attraction of industries that will insure job opportunities for those without means of livelihood; these are the tasks that now face merchants and around which they rally with a common sense of dedication that prosperity could never bring.

Leo Aikman

The Agenda Was Organic

No convention could be more harmonious than one in Atlanta this week. Instead of talks on "Cost Accounting for the Atomic Age" or "Perpetual Inventory for Interplanetary Trade," the contributors to the program sat down at the organ console and demonstrated techniques in tonal production. For this was the regional convention of the American Guild of Organists.

Marcus Bartlett, Emily Spivey, et al did the arranging and pulled the stops that kept the sessions in time and tune.

The master of ceremonies at the breakfast meeting, Dr. Claude Murphee of the University of Florida, contributed in an offbeat way by telling about the church bulletin board which advised: "Sermon Subject — What Is Hell Like?" The next line said: "Come and Hear Our Organist."

MEZZO-TENOR. Meeting an expert, I like to take advantage of the contact by asking about things only an expert would know.

Seated next to Lara Haggard, choirmaster and music director at Indian Springs for Boys near Birmingham, I asked how it was that the Baker High School Chorus at Columbus had a girl singing in the tenor section.

Dr. Haggard said such an alignment was unusual, but sometimes a deep alto does substitute for a missing tenor.

George Markey of New Jersey, sitting next at the table, agreed the girl tenor is not customary, but there are times when the female voice fits best there and blends well.

The two should know.

The New Jerseyite teaches at the Westminster Choir College in Newark. For seven years Lara Haggard waved a baton with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians. He said Fred more or less gave up directing when TV came along to make it necessary that the director memorize the scores, in order to shift with camera.

HORN WAS MUTED: Speaking of music, the saxaphone, it has been said, is an ill wind that nobody blows good. It was an ill woodwind player that made it possible for Abbie Suddath of Athens High to go to New York with the school band. Her aunt, Sarah Coker, Atlanta teacher, told me about it.

Abbie, it seems, plays the clarinet, but hasn't been at it long enough to rate the band trip. When one of the regular clarinetists became ill so that she couldn't go to New York, the band people chose Abbie to fill in. Why? Because she was the one who fit the vacant uniform. She made the trip on the condition that she not blow a single note.

Positive Steps Lead To Contented Life

Wouldn't you like to be able to say with St. Paul, "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, to be content?" He further says, "I know how to be abashed, and I know how to abound . . . to be full and to be hungry" (Philippians 4:11-12). The secret of contentment in life is learning how to adjust. Dr. Gordon Gilkey says that our four hardest adjustments to make are:

(1) Adjustment to some physical handicap. It may be one we were born with such as a deformity or it may be some illness or some limitation.

(2) The second difficult adjustment is to some serious defect in the individual we love. In the moonlight of courtship defects are likely to be overlooked but in the daily life of marriage the defect often becomes a major problem. Often our children don't turn out as we hoped and that is a disappointment.

(3) Many must learn to adjust to limited personal abilities. As youths we dreamed of bright careers and great accomplishments. But in later life we learn that we were not given the abilities to make those dreams real and must fill some second or third place. What makes it harder is to see some of our friends climb much higher on the ladder of success than we are able to do.

(4) A very difficult adjustment to make is to a life without a mate, without children, without normal family relationships. Perhaps this is the most difficult of all adjustments to make.

What steps can one take in "learning to be content?" There are four main truths to consider:

(1) Study the situation honestly and distinguish clearly between what parts can be altered and the parts that cannot. Do all you can to change what you can and make up your mind to accept the other.

(2) Deliberately work at transferring your attention from your frustrations and center your thinking on your opportunities. Keep working at it and you will derive more joy from your achievements than disappointments from your limitations.

(3) Learn to look forward with hope, realizing that at any moment the fortunate unexpected may happen. Something may happen that will change your entire life. Keep looking up, keep working and hoping.

(4) Remember that when we face the difficult situations of life with courageous hope, God will help us. The Psalmist said, "Blessed be the Lord, Who daily loadeth us with benefits" (68:19). God gives help day by day and multitudes have found Him to be a Friend who is a "very present help in time of trouble."

Adjustment to life's difficulties doesn't mean quietly folding our hands in resignation. It does mean learning to meet life as we find it and in being and giving our very best, deriving contentment therefrom.

Who Will Be Next Defense Secretary?

WASHINGTON—How would you like to pick the next secretary of defense? The Washington correspondents have been doing it for the past several weeks and there is no reason why we should have all the fun. One thing is clear. The bridge which Charles E. Wilson said he wouldn't cross until he came to it is getting nearer all the time.

Wilson will be the first or second—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey might beat him—to quit President Eisenhower's second-term Cabinet and a spate of candidates to succeed him is already hitting the headlines.

For some time now I have kept score on these speculations and I find that the names of 15 prominent persons are advanced to replace Wilson:

Wilber M. Brucker, effective secretary of the Army.

Charles S. Thomas, secretary of . . . oops, he's just resigned as secretary of the Navy and is out of the running. Bad guess.

Same for Reuben S. Robertson Jr., who has quit as deputy secretary of defense to return to his firm in Cincinnati.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, who was supreme commander at NATO and is now president of the Red Cross.

Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the interior, formerly presidential assistant and formerly assistant secretary of defense.

John J. McCloy, board-chairman of the Chase-Manhattan Bank, who has a long record of public service as assistant secretary of the Army, assistant secretary of state, high commissioner to Germany and our first postwar ambassador to Germany.

Donald A. Quarles, recently secretary for air who became deputy secretary of defense this past week.

Roger Kyes, who was Secretary Wilson's first deputy through 1953 and 1954 and is now a vice president of General Motors.

Robert B. Anderson, deputy secretary of defense after Kyes.

Henry Cabot Lodge, former senator from Massachusetts and now U.S. ambassador to the U.N.

Former governor of New York, Thomas E. Dewey, twice Republican presidential nominee; wouldn't accept.

Gordon Gray, once secretary of the Army, now successor to Arthur Flemming as head of the Office of Defense Mobilization, an Eisenhower Democrat.

James P. Mitchell, former assistant secretary of the Army and now secretary of labor and one of Eisenhower's favorite Cabinet colleagues.

Neil H. McElroy, head of Proctor and Gamble, who served as chairman of the White House Conference on Education.

James P. Killian, able president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the favored candidate of the scientists.

My first guess is that Deputy Secretary Quarles will succeed Wilson.

My second guess is McCloy.

Southerners Pledge Civil Rights Action

WASHINGTON—Political necessity finally seems to have caught up with the Senate's Democratic leader, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, on an issue that is becoming increasingly troublesome to his party—civil rights. Openly and publicly on the Senate floor, the Southerners pledged there would be action on civil rights legislation at this session of Congress.

The pledge came, it is true, in response to a Republican challenge during a political debate. Johnson had been pushed into a corner. But the Democratic leader obviously had decided he might as well recognize publicly the reality that he and other Democratic leaders pondered since last November's election.

The reality was, of course, the defection of many Negro votes from the Democrats to President Eisenhower and more proportionally in the South than in the North. The reason was twofold: The Southern Democratic resistance to integration and the civil rights blockade successfully raised for many years in the Senate by Southern Democrats.

A few minutes of old-fashioned political debate, so rarely heard in the Senate these days, brought out the whole story of civil rights legislation in Congress, the hypocrisy of both parties in recent years, the absurd lengths to which Southern Democrats go in delaying tactics in the Senate and, finally, the belated acknowledgement that this is a serious issue that must be met.

Johnson had been enjoying himself immensely in twitting the Republicans about the trouble they are having over President Eisenhower's big budget.

It also was relished, incidentally, by one of the Senate's top Republican leaders, chairman of the party conference. This is Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, who is neither an Eisenhower nor a "modern" Republican. As ranking Republican member on the Senate Appropriations Committee, he will have much to say about what happens to the President's budget.

Immediately Johnson was put on the defensive by the Senate Republican Leader, William F. Knowland of California, who rose and promptly changed the subject. He asked the Senate Democratic leader, as he has been asking the Democratic Party publicly for some time, when something would be done about the important civil rights legislation.

Johnson, in reply, took off on a rambling discussion about how the Supreme Court's public school integration decision had gone much farther than anybody in Congress had anticipated and how people all over the country have had to go slow in trying to adapt it.

He then reminded Knowland that the Republicans had done nothing about civil rights legislation when they were in control in the 83rd Congress. Accounting for his own Democratic stewardship in this Congress, the Texan wound up:

"This question is going to be acted upon at this session."

Griffin Says He'll Make Final Decision on Shine Fund

Gov. Griffin said Wednesday that he must make the ultimate decision on the fate of the controversial "Illegal Liquor Campaign Fund," whatever the recommendation of a special investigating committee.

The governor named a group of legislators to make a thorough probe of the $116,000 private fund which Revenue Commissioner T. V. Williams says he has received in voluntary contributions.

After holding three hearings, the panel adjourned Tuesday until next week. Chairman Edgar Blalock of Jonesboro said the group may submit a written report at that time. Sen. John Langdale of Valdosta said there may be minority and majority reports.

Griffin made it clear Wednesday that he would place considerable weight on the committee's suggestion.

"I usually don't ask a crowd to go thoroughly into a thing unless I intend to follow their recommendations," he declared.

But he added: "I've got to see the report before I make any comment."

Griffin said he was not sure he could endorse the committee suggestion down to "dotting the i's and crossing the t's" in advance. That would be "like signing a blank check," he asserted.

Griffin said he thought the committee "has done and is doing a good job. I want to express my appreciation to them for taking on that job at my request."

Elvis Swallows a Tooth Cap; Doctors Fish It Out of Lung

HOLLYWOOD, May 15 (AP)—Singer Elvis Presley underwent an operation today for removal of a tooth cap that slipped down his windpipe into his right lung.

The swivel-hipped crooner swallowed the porcelain cap yesterday while doing a dance routine at MGM for his current picture, "Jailhouse Rock."

When he experienced pain on the set this morning he was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where X-rays revealed the displaced cap.

A studio spokesman said Elvis would remain at the hospital overnight and probably would recuperate at his hotel for two days or so.

4 at Atomic Lab Injured In Blast and Fumes Fell 6

BROOKHAVEN, N.Y., May 15 (AP)—A chemical explosion today injured four persons at the Brookhaven National Laboratory—one of the nation's principal atomic research centers.

One of the injured was reported in serious condition. Six other persons were exposed to corrosive acid vapors during rescue operations and required medical attention.

The Atomic Energy Commission said no nuclear radiation was involved in any of the injuries.

Brookhaven is located in a remote section of eastern Long Island, about 75 miles from New York.

The explosion sent a puff of white smoke rising from a small-scale engineering test facility but was not felt generally through the vast acreage of the laboratory grounds.

The blast blew out a section of steel panel surrounding some equipment, allowing liquid to splash out and chemical fumes to escape.

Brookhaven is the scene this week of the Inter-American Symposium of 200 Latin-American and American nuclear scientists.

It was a chemical explosion "at a small scale engineering test facility" a statement by the director of the laboratory, Dr. Leland J. Haworth said.

Richard Johnson of Baldwin, Long Island, was seriously injured. The statement said he suffered severe chemical burns on the face, including the eyes, and also on the upper part of the body.

Ike Urged the 'Tragic' Pullout From Korea, Acheson Replies

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today that President Eisenhower, who referred last night to the "tragic results" of the U.S. withdrawal from Korea, actually suggested the step.

Acheson, who served in President Truman's Cabinet and was a prime target of the Republicans, said the President was guilty of "bad grace" in making the statement during his television defense of his embattled record peacetime budget.

The White House immediately labeled Acheson's statement incorrect. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said the 1949 withdrawal from Korea was "a political decision, not a military one."

Hagerty added that it was "a historic fact" that Eisenhower "protested frequently" to the White House and the State Department during the period in question "over the weakening of the armed forces."

But Acheson, in a statement issued through the Democratic National Committee, said the withdrawal proposal "was transmitted to the State Department under date of Sept. 25, 1947, over his (Eisenhower's) own signature as then chief of staff of the Army."

"The State Department at the time protested Gen. Eisenhower's recommendation, but eventually bowed to the insistent views of the military. Whether or not it was wise for the State Department to have so bowed, it would come in bad grace for the man who made the recommendation to imply such criticism," Acheson said.

Segregation Practitioners Suffer, Too?

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—A national group of psychiatrists contended today that segregation injures the practitioner as well as the target individual, the community and the nation as a whole.

A report on the psychological aspects of desegregation was issued by the Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry, after a two - year study. Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, president, said it represents the pooled observations and findings of more than 235 psychiatrists and social scientists representing every section of the country.

'INTERIOR FEELINGS'

Taking up the Supreme Court's decisions against segregation, the authors said members of a segregated group always suffer from "unrealistic inferior feelings, a sense of humilation and constriction of the potentialities of self-development."

Persons condoning segregation practices, they went on, gain a "feeling of superior worth...merely from the existence of the downgraded group.

"This leads to an unrealistic and unadaptive kind of self-appraisal based on invidious comparison rather than on solid personal growth and achievement."

RELATED TO DISEASE

At the community level, the report said, segregation is directly related to high disease and death rates, some types of crime and delinquency, poor housing, substandard living conditions and disrupted or poorly organized family life. They added: "These social ills, however, do not remain confined to the segregated segment of the population; they inevitably lower the level of well-being for the community as a whole. For example, where a local government must provide duplicate sets of 'separate but equal' welfare and educational services, the budget of each must be lowered by the expense of the other."

Poor living conditions, the report went on, can breed the spread of disease from "menial to boss" as easily as from schoolmate to schoolmate because "contagiousness does not discriminate."

House To Get New Panic-Proof Doors

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—At a cost of $8,000, House members soon may get a spanking new ble, bronze revolving door on one of their two office buildings.

J. George Stewart, Capitol architect, wants it to replace a wooden door installed in 1932. He says replacement parts for the old door can't be obtained.

U.S. Jury Indicts 3 in Gambling Case

A U.S. District Judge Wednesday told a federal grand jury here to dig deep into lottery operations and to indict anyone who has conspired to defraud the government by failure to register his gambling activities or failed to pay a special federal wagering tax.

By GENE BRITTON

The jury immediately went to work and returned two gambling indictments.

Charged with failing to pay a special wagering tax and failure to register were Robert Lee Lewis Sr., 976 Simpson St., NW, and Robert Lee Lewis Jr., 390 Sunset Ave., NW, Apt. 2, who were indicted jointly, and Robert Earl Black, 18 Ashby St., NW.

The jury also returned a record 40 other indictments in the first day of business.

The Lewises were arrested in February and Black was arrested in March of this year.

Judge Boyd Sloan told the jury to seek evidence leading to conspiracy indictments against persons who "aided and abetted" others in defrauding the government as well as those who attempted to evade federal gambling taxes.

He told the jurors that the federal government leaves the prohibiting or regulating of gambling to the states. The U.S. cooperates with the states, however, by enacting laws "to disclose to the state names of persons and places where that sort of business is carried on," he said.

The jury—one woman, 19 white men and two Negro men—will begin its investigation of lottery operations in north Georgia Thursday after disposing of "routine" business begun Wednesday.

The government has indicated it would call 40 to 45 witnesses in the Horace Ingram case. Names of witnesses are being withheld, until after they testify "due to risk of harassment or intimidation."

Among indictments returned Wednesday was one against L. O. Williams, Atlanta accountant, who is charged with having his clients' income tax returns mailed to himself, forging endorsements and cashing them himself.

The jury also indicted Willie Hugh Dailey, 35, 284 Moreland Way, Hapeville, on charges of violating U.S. narcotics laws.

1,000 Church Women Sewed for Hospital

More than 1,000 women from 45 Methodist churches gave 10,554 hours during the past year in preparing more than 10,000 garments for use in Emory University Hospital.

These were the figures revealed at the annual meeting of the Linen Committee of the Emory University Hospital Woman's Auxiliary Wednesday.

Mrs. Luther Medlock, linen chairman, reported that the ladies had cut and sewn some 74 types of garments including gowns for adult and child patients, babies and X-ray and operating room nurses, and scrub coats and pants for doctors.

Nation Learning of Hazards In Rights Bill, Says Forrester

By ALBERT RILEY
Constitution Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 15—Opposition to proposed civil rights legislation will increase throughout the land as the people learn more about its far-reaching implications, Rep. E. L. (Tic) Forrester declared today.

"The only thing that is needed to put this bill in disrepute is for the people to understand it," he told the House Rules Committee that is considering the administration or Brownell bill.

"Not even Atty. Gen. Brownell or the authors of the bill understand it and what it would do to the rights of all the people, particularly the right of trial by jury," the Georgia congressman said.

Commenting that many members of Congress who originally supported the bill have now recanted, Forrester predicted that more proponents of the bill would do the same thing as they understood it better.

The Georgian, who had prepared a 22-page, single-spaced "brief" of argument against the bill, barely got started in today's committee meeting before the panel had to recess for a quorum call on the floor of the House.

His scheduled time today was largely taken up by preceding speakers against the bill.

Sentence Upheld

A 20-year prison sentence of a Macon Negro who was convicted of raping a 19-year-old white woman has been upheld by the Georgia Supreme Court. The court held that there was no merit in any of the grounds of an appeal by Milton Thomas, 42. Thomas was convicted and sentenced in Houston County Superior Court in 1955.

Bug Inquiry Spurred as 15 Testify

Fulton Sol. Gen. Paul Webb said the Fulton Grand Jury—after interviewing some 15 witnesses in a special session Wednesday—is "making continuing progress" in its lottery probe.

The solicitor said the jury is "still working" on its investigation.

At the same time, Webb requested, along with Jury Foreman S. L. Brooks, that witnesses appearing before the jury during the lottery investigation not be identified. Officials said this should include persons listed in indictments so as not to "hinder" the inquiry.

RECESSED TODAY

The jury will not meet again until Friday, its regular meeting date. It was understood the jury plans to follow a schedule of sessions Monday through Friday, except for Thursday.

It was also learned Wednesday that Mrs. Margaret Hodges, who made two appearances before a previous lottery-probing jury, apparently is going to be sent back to Georgia State Prison within a few days.

Mrs. Hodges, who has a record of lottery convictions, was being held here on a court order until May 15 to talk to lottery probers. County officials said Wednesday there is no new order contemplated to hold her here any longer.

J. B. Hatchett, assistant director of the Department of Corrections, said Mrs. Hodges—who is serving a five-year term on charges growing out of a "lottery war" here last year—will be sent back to Reidsville when the Fulton sheriff's office can conveniently arrange transportation for her.

SENTENCE EXPLAINED

In another development, Criminal Court Judge Charles G. Bruce said that one of the reasons which influenced him to give a probated sentence to a convicted liquor law violator was his cooperation with the current grand jury investigation.

Bruce referred to a 24-month probated sentence given last week to George Love, 45, who was named in a grand jury indictment Tuesday as one of two Negroes who allegedly paid bribes to Atlanta Patrolman C. T. Dopson.

Bruce said Love was given the probated sentence after the Adult Probation Office advised him Love was crippled by a previous leg fracture, that his family is dependent on him for support and because Love had been "helpful in connection with matters which the current grand jury is investigating."

Love is paying fines totaling $350 in connection with three illegal liquor cases on which he was convicted and given the probated sentences.

Special Deputy Is Arrested in Pistol-Pointing

A Fulton County special deputy sheriff was arrested Wednesday after two policemen said they observed him draw a pistol on an unidentified motorist for no apparent reason.

Identified as C. E. Martin, 79, of 365 Sawtell Ave., SE, he was charged with disorderly conduct-pointing a pistol at another.

Station Capt. W. L. Duncan said Martin was placed under $100 bond and his pistol, badge and deputy card were impounded temporarily.

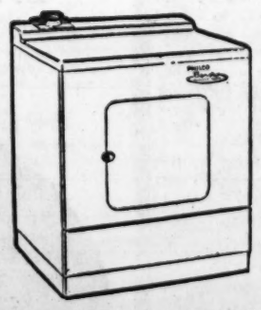

Sgt. L. B. Witcher and Patrolman P. T. Westbrook said Martin, a nightwatchman at a construction job, had started across Edgewood Avenue. A motorist headed south on Piedmont began a left turn into Edgewood, officers related. They said Martin stepped back a pace, drew a revolver and pointed it at the driver.

His 'Selfish' Hobby: Reading to Children

By MARJORY RUTHERFORD

A 37-YEAR-OLD ATLANTA BACHELOR spends most of his spare time surrounded by children.

Sol Lipson of 1187 Cleburne Ave., NE, "loves to hear little boys and girls laugh."

And he brings youngsters a gift of laughter with his rollicking story-telling.

Almost any Saturday finds Lipson out at the Methodist Children's Home—where Photographer Ken Patterson made this picture of him with friends Eddie Campbell, 3, and Vicki Waits, 5—or at a hospital or nursery spinning fairy tales.

"If you know any child who is ill and needs someone to read to him," Lipson says earnestly, "I'll put him on my list. It's purely a selfish hobby; I enjoy it as much as the youngsters!"

The Atlantan first found he "had a sort of talent for telling children's stories" in 1941 when he was stationed with the Army at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska. The GI won a special commendation for his volunteer work with children in a Sunday school there.

Between 1953 and 1955 he was stationed in Japan and spent his off-duty hours with little Japanese war orphans. "They couldn't understand my stories in that orphanage near Tokyo," he said, "but a smile is the same in any language."

Lipson tells fascinated young Atlanta audiences the old tried-and-true Mother Goose stories and fairy tales—plus stories he "makes up on the spot out of thin air." He also passes on all the used storybooks he can get hold of to children who otherwise would not have reading matter.

Gift Spurs Episcopal Home Here

A fund totaling $115,000 has been made available to the Episcopal Diocese of Atlanta to establish a home for the aged, the Rt. Rev. Randolph R. Claiborne, Episcopal bishop of Atlanta, announced here Wednesday morning.

Bishop Claiborne made the announcement during the closing session of the 50th annual meeting of the woman's auxiliary of the diocese of St. Luke's Church.

McBURNEY FUND

The bishop said the money had been directed to the diocese by the vestry of St. Luke's Church. He said the gift is from the McBurney Fund Committee, which administers the income St. Luke's receives from part of the Mrs. Helen Sterrett McBurney estate.

An initial $5,000 is available now, Bishop Claiborne said, for the study of the need of such a home and an investigation of suitable locations.

BUILDING MONEY

Bishop Claiborne indicated $50,000 would be given as soon as the diocese sets up a campaign to raise sufficient funds for building the home.

He said an additional $60,000 would be given to the diocese at the rate of $15,000 per year for the next five years.

The bishop said this is the initial step in establishing an Episcopal home and said no concrete plans for completion cost, date or location had been made.

Before I Ask for Your Continued Support, I Want to Thank You...

I want to thank you for supporting me in last Wednesday's election. I am particularly grateful that my home ward . . . the 8th ward, where my opponents also live, gave me the greatest number of votes in that ward. I am grateful for your vote of confidence from the people who have known me for 30 years or more.

In a race where there are three people running, the winner must receive more votes than his two opponents' combined votes. That is the reason we have a runover on May 22nd.

I need your continued support, and I am asking that you and your families and friends go to the polls once more and cast your vote again for me.

I have had business experience, and I have had experience as being your alderman for two terms. I want to go back to the Board of Aldermen and serve with the other aldermen whom you elected with whom I have served. I believe that I can get more cooperation from the people whom I know and who know me than a new-comer who does not have experience and whose own ward voted him as less qualified.

begin at once a reexamination of all personnel.

Supt. E. I. Hilderbrand, who has headed the special services division, was transferred to the uniform division and assigned to investigate all complaints in that field.

The order transferred Capt. Fred Beerman, who was loaned to the Municipal Traffic Court to supervise the installation of records, to the chief's office. Beerman will fill the vacancy created by the transfer of Hilderbrand.

SPECIAL PROSECUTOR

The aldermanic board's police committee approved the Jenkins report, which also recommended employment of a special prosecutor "to follow through to their conclusion all lottery cases and report back to the police committee the final disposition of all lottery cases now pending in the courts and those cases to be made in the future."

In pressing for the prosecutor, Jenkins told the committee:

"We will then know what happens to lottery cases because we will follow them through.

"In the past there have been instances where the solicitor (John I. Kelley, solicitor of the Criminal Court of Fulton County, with whom city administration leaders have been at frequent odds) decided to dead docket cases for lack of sufficient evidence and later at some convenient time, pull a case out and decide there was sufficient evidence to try it.

'FIGHTING IN DARK'

"We are now fighting in the dark. If we follow through we will know where we stand."

Jenkins urged that the prosecutor help prosecute lottery offenders if the need arises.

The committee approved Jenkins' report but deferred action on the request for the special prosecutor and also election of an additional police superintendent, also urged by Jenkins.

In his order, Jenkins said a few "indiscreet" employes had brought disrepute and a shadow of suspicion on the department.

DeKalb Set To Secure Road Rights

In what they called a move to expedite the securing of rights-of-way for the multibillion-dollar interstate highway system, DeKalb County commissioners have signed a new contract with the State Highway Department.

The group, at their regular meeting, also recorded a letter from the state highway group reminding counties of their duties in clearing utility lines from the rights-of-way of rural road projects.

The interstate highway contract is in certain ways similar to a previous agreement, County Attorney George P. Dillard said. It provides that within 15 days after being notified by the state the county must acquire fee simple title to any property necessary for rights-of-way on the interstate highway system in DeKalb.

Commissioners also approved a petition signed by 52 per cent of property owners to lay a sewer line along Clairmont road from Azalea circle to North Druid Hills road. The move, to be done on an assessment basis with a cost to the property owners, was protested by four owners on the street.

Also approved were bids for four months' supply of gas and fuel for all departments except water and fire. The low bid for gas went to Gulf Oil Corp. at 12.93 cents per gallon for regular, 14.93 cents per gallon for premium. Fuel oil bid went to Texas Oil Co. at 11.86 cents per gallon.

| 2 hearts | Pass | 3 hearts | Pass |
| 4 hearts | Pass | 5 clubs | Double |
| Pass | Pass | 6 hearts | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

Opening lead: King of spades.

A panicky attitude can prove very costly at the bridge table as West found out to his sorrow in defending today's slam contract.

The opening demand bid is somewhat aggressive though we are not inclined to quarrel with the slight stretch of values. North's raise to three hearts was a temporizing bid, to accept the trump suit.

South's bid for four hearts meets with our approval. Having opened a rather touchy two heart bid he should not take further aggressive action. North properly showed the ace of clubs and East doubled.

South's pass is proper. Having shown the ace of clubs, North might have been content to bid only five hearts. But he decided to go all out, though the tone of the bidding should have warned him that South's two bid was perhaps not of the gilt edged variety.

West opened the king of spades and East signaled with the six. Whether or not such signal was good tactics we are not here considering, but West did follow up with the ace of spades, which declarer ruffed.

After drawing trumps in two rounds declarer ruffed one of dummy's spades and the fall of East's queen set up the jack for a discard of South's losing diamond.

In attempting to fix the blame I suppose a finding of contributory negligence may be returned. However, East's offense, if any, is of a minor character. It is West's blunder which ranks as an outstanding indiscretion.

The situation shrieked violently for a club lead. East had doubled the five club bid and therefore was known to have the bulk of strength in that suit.

There should have been no anxiety about cashing the ace of spades. If South held another spade there was absolutely no way in which he could get rid of it, but if he had no more, dummy's jack could be established if West led his high spade.

In view of South's vigorous bidding it was a near certainty that he had no more than one spade loser. A little patience by West would have been rewarding.

State Labor Delegates Talk Beck and Boycott

A proposed boycott and Teamsters Chief Dave Beck were the main topics of conversation Wednesday as delegates to conventions of the Georgia Federation of Labor and State CIO Council gathered in Brunswick.

Conversations among early arrivals indicated an edge for the Beck hearings in Washington. Beck has been in the national spotlight almost constantly in recent weeks as a Senate Rackets Investigating Committee probed his union activities.

Delegates to the Georgia Federation of Labor convention are being equipped with car stickers urging a boycott of products of Westinghouse Electric Co.

William A. Cetti of Atlanta, AFL state president, said if the Beck matter comes up during the convention of his group, "I'm going to rule it out of order."

The stickers proclaim non-union workmen are erecting Westinghouse's new transformer plant in Athens, Ga.

An accompanying statement by the Atlanta Building and Construction Trades Council and Athens Central Labor Council calls the company's action "unprecedented." The statement, printed on large posters, continues:

"Indignation was at top peak in labor circles after a Westinghouse representative conferred with labor leaders in Atlanta and told them in no uncertain terms that it was the intention of the company to build this plant non-union.

From Bach to Syncopation... Organist Fox Plays It All

A recital program with a wide variety of musical moods and styles Wednesday night enabled Virgil Fox ably to defend his reputation as one of the world's leading organ artists.

Included in the program, given at Atlanta's First Methodist Church, were items ranging from Bach counterpoint to Jean Berveiller's "Epitaphe," a contemporary piece complete with blues and syncopation.

And the high spot of the program( habitually referred to by Fox as "the roast beef of the musical menu," was the richly impressionistic "Suite, Opus 5," by Maurice Durufle.

Fox, well known to Atlanta music lovers, again demonstrated complete mastery of the organ. Sometimes he played with deft softness, as in the delicate and "far-off" music of Grovley's "Petites Litanies de Jesu." At other points he handled the keyboard with a sure, brash and racing speed, as in "Siciliene," second section of the Durufle opus.

In short, the New York artist's playing is superb. However, one might wonder how far a player should be expected to be a lecturer as well. Fox, highly aware of his audience, has developed his "explanatory comments" into something of a patter.

And at times his fingertips, leading the audience's appreciation, received strong competition from the keyboard contortions of his body and head. — ALLAN HEAD.

Lutheran Synod Elects Columbus Pastor

Special to The Constitution

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., May 15—A Columbus Lutheran pastor has been elected an officer of the Florida-Georgia District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod. He is the Rev. H. G. Welch. He was named second vice president during the opening day sessions of the seventh biennial convention of the district meeting.

Several Atlanta-area pastors and laymen are participating in the meeting. The Rev. T. Westermann, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in Marietta, is serving on the finance and stewardship committee. S. M. Eldridge, a lay delegate from the church, is serving on the committee on Overtures (resolutions).

The Rev. Marlin Mentz, pastor of Christ Church, East Point, is a member of the committee on student aid and pensions. E. H. Moldenhaur is a lay delegate from the church. The Rev. Lloyd E. Groenke, pastor Peace Lutheran Church, Decatur, is serving on the youth committee.

Urban League To Meet Sunday

The Atlanta Urban League will hold its 37th annual meeting here at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Dean Sage Auditorium of Atlanta University.

Charles F. Palmer, author of the book "Adventures of a Slum Fighter," will be the guest speaker. Palmer was a special assistant to the late President Roosevelt, and was the director of the Techwood Housing Project, which was the first federal slum clearance project in this country.

Unknown Georgian Turns Into Taxpayer

The state treasury received an anonymous "conscience money" check for $75 Wednesday.

In a letter to Gov. Griffin, a person identifying himself only as "a Georgian" explained that the money was owed to the State Agriculture Department under a former administration.

The $75 includes an "ample allowance for accumulated interest," the letter stated. The cashier's check was drawn on City Bank & Trust Co. of Macon.

Tech To Display Danish Stylings

An exhibition of postwar Danish architecture will be on display at Georgia Tech's school of architecture exhibition hall through May 29. Sponsoring the exhibit is the embassy of Denmark.

On display are photographs and drawings of 36 projects by 29 leading Danish architects. Building categories include houses, schools, community centers, office buildings, factories and hospitals.

Scott Trustees To Meet Friday

The annual meeting of the Agnes Scott College board of trustees will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday in Evans Hall on the Scott campus in Decatur.

Atlanta board members include George W. Woodruff, vice chairman; L. L. Gellerstedt, Harry A. Fifield, P. D. Miller, J. R. Neal, Mrs. Joseph C. Read, John A. Sibley and C. F. Stone. Decatur members are Scott Candler, J. R. McCain, the Rev. Davison Philips, J. J. Scott and S. G. Stukes.

Thrasher Asks Legislators To Protect Teacher Fund From Greedy

By WILLIAM M. BATES

State Auditor B. E. Thrasher Jr. said Wednesday that the $75 million Teacher Retirement Fund must be protected against groups that might try to exploit it for private uses.

Thrasher told legislative investigators about an Atlanta financial group that approached him earlier this year with a proposal to take over the fund from its board of trustees.

He said the group, which he declined to identify, wanted to manage and invest the fund and pay the retirement system a flat return of about 3½ per cent for the use of the money.

Thrasher said he told the group their proposal could not be carried out under present law that specifically lodges responsibility for the fund in its board of trustees.

Testifying before a House-Senate committee investigating the teachers and other state-sponsored retirement funds, Thrasher said the proposal of the Atlanta group pointed up the need to protect the fund.

The Atlanta group, Thrasher said, claimed the fund had lost $1 million under its present operation.

"This fund is too sacred for people out for personal gain to take shots at it with the idea of turning it around and getting a hold of it," Thrasher said.

State Sen. James Peters of Manchester, a member of the investigating committee, agreed with Thrasher that "the larger the fund gets, the more people are going to try to get their hands on it."

Peters suggested that a detailed accounting of the fund, showing an inventory or assets and liabilities, be widely published once a year.

12 Awarded Medallions by Dentists Here

Twelve dentists were awarded medallions for "leadership in dental progress" at the annual banquet of the Fifth District Dental Society at the Standard Town and Country Club Wednesday night.

The Thomas P. Hinman Mid-Winter Clinic Medallions were presented by Dr. Ben A. Dyas, retiring president of the dental society. All 12 dentists honored have served as chairmen of the Thomas P. Hinman Mid-Winter Clinic, sponsored annually by the dental society.

Dr. Thomas J. Hicks Jr. was named new president of the Fifth District Dental Society, and Dr. Nathan Blass was named president-elect. Dr. Curtis Reding was elected vice president.

Dr. J. Lewis Blass, professor of periodontia at New York University dental school, was among the speakers at the meeting. Dr. Blass said in an interview that diseases of the gums account for the loss of more teeth than all other causes combined.

"Yet with a little care," he noted, "these gum diseases and loss of teeth can be prevented."

Dr. Blass recommended regular brushing of the teeth, massaging of the gums and visits to the dentist. He also stressed the importance of a proper diet. He said an adequate diet would include a salad of uncooked vegetables daily to provide roughage which exercises the teeth and gums.

Missile Knocks Out Engineer At Controls of Freight Train

NORFOLK, Va., May 15 (AP)—A locomotive engineer was knocked out today by an object thrown at his moving train.

Frank G. Brannock, 54, Crewe, was treated at Norfolk General Hospital for a cut on the head.

Detective Sgt. L. Jones reported Brannock was operating a Norfolk & Western freight train near Disputanta shortly before 4 a.m. when a man standing at a crossing threw an object, Jones said. The object struck Brannock and rendered him unconscious for five minutes.

Brannock's fireman brought the train to a stop just before Brannock regained consciousness, Jones said.

HEADED FOR TROUBLE—MISHAWAKA, Ind., May 15—Ray (Butch) Holcomb, 4, likes to fish. Taking a fishing rod from home, he made an unauthorized mile-and-a-half hike to a river. He put his head through a bridge railing to survey the situation. His head stuck and stayed stuck until Sgt. Warren Ackenhusen found him. Butch was uninjured.

Gray Vet Quips at 111

SLANT, Va., May 15 (AP) — Gen. John B. Salling, one of three surviving veterans of the Civil War, clowned and quipped his way through a huge birthday celebration here today but remarked that —being 111—he felt "like a two-year-old egg—rotten."

The "general"—the title is purely honorary—didn't act that way, though, as he received a 150-car motorcade in this tiny southwest Virginia mountain community of less than 1,000 inhabitants.

The motorcade, which consisted of representatives from all branches of the armed forces, a National Guard unit, a high school band and several state and county officials, arrived at the home of Mrs. Hugh McKamey, a daughter with whom Gen. Salling lives.

Its members found the spry, black-haired rebel all dressed up in his Confederate uniform and in very high spirits to enjoy his birthday celebration. The uniform was given him several years ago by state officials.

The celebration included the reading of congratulatory telegrams from President Eisenhower.

200-Lb. Ape Shot Down In a Terrorized Miami

MIAMI, Fla., May 15 (AP)—A pair of surly chimpanzees escaped from their cage today and spread terror through a residential section before one was shot and the other enticed behind bars again.

Casualties of the chimpanzee chase were county humane officer Forsman J. Anderson, 36, who was severely bitten on the right hand while trying to catch one of the apes, and a tiny marmoset killed in its cage by another of the escapees.

The male chimp which bit Anderson was riddled with bullets by policeman James Hartley. The policeman and Anderson cornered the chimp as it left a garage in which a frightened householder had taken refuge in an automobile.

Anderson tried to snare it with a rope attached to a pole but the animal pushed the device aside and sank its teeth in its would-be captor's hand. Anderson was hospitalized.

The other ape, a female, burst into an office building at the privately owned zoo where the two chimps have been caged for eight years. It spotted the little marmoset monkey in its cage and killed it before going outdoors again.

At that point, a keeper who had been discharged a week earlier and had come by the zoo to return his uniforms, took over. He lured the she-ape back to her cage with a bunch of bananas and slammed the door behind her.

The reasons for the discharge of James Peeples, 52, could not be determined but zoo operator J. Jay Segal said he will get his job back.

The chimps escaped as William Roberts, an attendant, was cleaning their cage.

for the President, who had asked for more generous treatment for the information agency.

Supporting the President against this heavy reduction were 14 liberal, or "Eisenhower," Republicans and a single Democrat, Sen. Neuberger (Ore).

Against the President were 38 Democrats and 23 Republicans.

On no comparable issue since his administration began had he been so widely deserted by members of his own party.

The USIA controversy out of the way, the Senate proceeded routinely to approve 77 to 0 the whole omnibus bill.

"Eisenhower Republicans," such Sen. Case (NJ) and Javits (NY) cried out to the end the bipartisan majority—including every member of both party hierarchies—were crippling this country's principal propaganda arm at a time of critical turn in the "cold war."

Speakers for the bipartisan majority denied this repeatedly and insistently.

They insisted that they were wholly in support of the aims of the agency and in sympathy with the President's desire for its full maintenance.

Beck Profited in Buying Land for Union, Quiz Told

union for $18 a square foot for a "quick money" profit of $71,500, he said. He said Shefferman offered to split the take with Fields and Salisbury.

Fields said he rejected the offer and later learned that the Legion had listed the property exclusively with a Washington realty firm at $12 a square foot.

"PRIVATE DEAL"

Salisbury read portions of a "journal" he was keeping at the time which generally supported Fields' testimony. One entry noted that Shefferman "had a private deal on behalf of himself and Dave Beck at $18."

Shefferman is a Chicago labor relations consultant who testified in March that he bought some $80,000 worth of personal goods for Beck and was repaid with union funds.

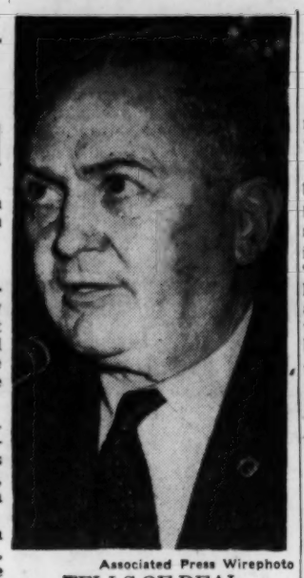

Earlier today, the committee questioned A.M. Burke, vice president of the Occidental Life Insurance Co. of Los Angeles, which handles insurance for the Western Conference of Teamsters.

SAYS BECK BORROWED

Burke testified that Beck borrowed $273,000 from his company in 1951, submitting a statement on his personal finances. He said the statement did not indicate Beck owed any money to the union.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said this happened "during the period when Beck was taking $300,000 from the union, which he now claims was a loan."

Since Beck did not list such a loan on his financial statement, Kennedy said, "it would therefore appear that the money was stolen rather than borrowed."

Ike Doubts Honesty Of a Big Defense Cut

plunged ahead with its drive to slash the administration's $71,800,000,000 budget. Few if any members of the economy bloc showed any sign of being influenced by the President's appeal.

Such GOP chieftains as Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland and Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) joined Democratic leaders in reaffirming their determination to cut spending. Rallying to the President's support were the "modern Republicans" who had backed him all along.

"DON'T SEE HOW"

Eisenhower was asked early in his half - hour news conference about reports that the House Military Appropriations subcommittee had agreed tentatively to whack $2,500,000,000 from his request for $36,200,000,000 in new military funds.

Shaking his head and rocking back and forth on the balls of his feet, he said he had been in the military affairs - budget business since 1927 and "I don't see how they can do it."

"If we are going to trifle with this adequate defense on that basis, now we are going to be in trouble somewhere along the line."

The President did say that he thought defense spending could be cut some if armed forces ever are unified the way they should be.

COOPERATION A GOAL

Progress is being made, he said, but real unification would mean common use of such things as hospitals, doctors and depots and greater cooperation in procurement and distribution.

Eisenhower was asked specifically about Knowland's comment that while the President made an "able" presentation on television last night he still thought the budget could be slashed by three billion dollars.

The chief executive held firm. He said again he did not see how it could be done unless "they are calculating on abolishing some one of the major programs or a group of smaller programs in our country."

In declaring that he has grown "more conservative," Eisenhower said his political philosophy is based on a sound fiscal policy, a balanced budget, debt reduction, sound money, and federal participation only in those things the states cannot handle.

But he added that "we are sunk" unless the government "looks in the face" such problems of modern industrial life as unemployment brought on by old age and disability.

House Votes To End Soil Bank by Cutting Off Funds for '58

rental per year, plus $2,355,802 "practices payments."

After voting to deny the soil bank funds, the House adopted by voice vote the $3,692,889,757 spending budget for agriculture in the fiscal year starting July 1. The regular appropriations plus loan authorizations and other activities required by law gave the department a record total budget of $5,000,000,000.

URGE METHODS REVIEW

The fight over the soil bank is the first of a series of new skirmishes likely over farm policy. Benson appeared before the Senate Agriculture Committee this morning to urge Congress to revamp price support and production control methods.

He indicated he would accept a floor under price supports for major crops. He said, however, that it would have to be lower than the present floor to prevent the building of new surpluses once the present surplus situation was overcome. He suggested that Congress permit the secretary of agriculture to set price support levels now prescribed by law on some crops or lower the floor for wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

As the money bill came to the floor from the Appropriations Committee, it was $272,000,000 less than the administration had requested. It carried a total of $765,000,000 for the soil bank for this year, or $235,000,000 less than the administration had asked.

"WASTE" AND "SCANDAL"

The bitter debate over the soil bank's fate, which began yesterday, brought charges on the floor that it was a "waste" of taxpayers' money and "a national scandal."

These accusations were prompted by a House agriculture subcommittee's report of abuses in 1956 operations. Their abuses included payments to farmers as drought and other disaster relief before the presidential election; payments for unproductive land and dual payments for retiring land and then planting it to needed crops.

Rep. Harrison (D-Va) offered the amendment to sever the soil bank from the administration's farm program. He called it a "national scandal" and asserted it should be killed. But, he said, if further study determined the project could be continued then the House could restore it.

The funds to pay farmers who already have signed for this year remained in the bill. But the House eliminated 500 million dollars to carry out the acreage reserve or emergency phase of the soil bank in 1958.

The acreage reserve covers so-called basic crops of wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice and tobacco, and is based on a four-year operation.

Actually, a 250-million-dollar authorization remained in the bill for the conservation reserve or long-range part of the soil bank.

Administration farm officials regarded this money, however, as only a token of the over-all soil bank, because 112 million dollars had been allocated in subsidies to farmers. This left 138 million dollars for the life of the conservation reserve originally intended to cover four years at 450 million dollars annually.

Under the conservation reserve, farmers sign contracts extending from 3 to 15 years for retiring crop land to permanent conservation practices, including grasses, trees and other water and soil-saving measures.

causes of the failure of this project to win voter approval.

Seven of the 37 precincts approved all the issues. They are Phillips, Pine Lake, Jim Cherry, Decatur-Glenwood, Emory, Medlock and Stone Mountain.

The Leslie J. Steele precinct voted against every item on the issue.

Closest vote outside the courthouse project was in public parks, which passed 5,919 to 5,078.

Blount said work on some of the projects could begin within 30 days or as soon as the bonds are validated. Roads probably will be the first project undertaken, he said.

Public Works director Woodrow Fitzgerald said he would submit three roads to the bond commission for approval. These include Rockbridge road from Memorial drive to Stephenson road to Rock Chapel road; Redan road from Covington highway to the intersection of Redan-Lithonia road, and Stone Mountain road from Scottdale to Stone Mountain.

Blount said a hospital authority would be named within the next month. It will be 1959 before state and federal monies are available for the 200-bed, self-supporting hospital, he said. No site has been selected for the hospital yet, he added.

Courthouse officials "will have to go on as in the past and make out as best they can" until another bond election is called, Blound said. He did not propose a date for the election.

Fourth District Commissioner Julian Harris said he was not disappointed at the 11,000-vote turnout. "I was afraid we would not go over 10,000 when enthusiasm at our meetings was lagging."

"Mark McClellan, city building inspector of El Centro, Calif., receives condemnation notice on his house which is said to be falling apart."—News item.

It is so easy to condemn . . . the faults of others, for in them . . . the frailties are magnified . . . and loom like mountain peaks beside . . . the faults we have, and I suppose . . . we shouldn't even mention those.

The faults of others, we discuss . . . and they are comforting to us . . . until some day we realize . . . we are unable to disguise . . . the fact that "termites" have come in . . . to eat the sills that underpin . . . these "stately mansions of our souls" . . . and bore the timbers full of holes.

I mean, we can't see what is wrong . . . until somebody comes along . . . someone who has no "ax to grind" . . . and tells us what is on his mind . . . and proves to us, our house is built . . . upon the shifting sands, or silt . . . while he, himself, has never found . . . his "stately mansion" is unsound.*

Our Noses Must Suffer To Prepare Air for Lungs

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

The nose is part of the air-conditioning system of the body. Inspired air is warmed and moistened as it flows over the various folds of the nasal chamber.

In this respect the old proboscis is more than an organ of smell. It is an excellent humidifier and adds approximately one quart of moisture to the inspired air during a 24-hour period.

Our air conditioner also is a filter. Dust particles and other debris are caught by the hairs in the nostrils and by the mucus that covers the membranes. The trapped particles are forced toward the back of the nose by millions of hairlike projections (cilia) so tiny they cannot be seen with the naked eye.

The sinuses are hollow spaces in the bones of the face, connected to the nasal channels via short passageways. They, too, help warm the inspired air and are considered another part of the air-conditioning system.

The nose and sinuses were not designed to cope with the sudden changes in temperature and humidity we encounter on going in and out of stores, office buildings, and homes.

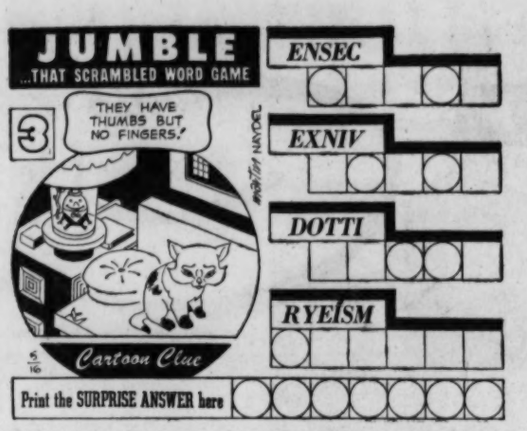

In addition, most cities are deluged with dust, irritating gases, and other pollutants. Crowded buses and elevators make it easy for colds to pass from one individual to another.

Nevertheless, it is surprising how much stress and strain these organs can take.

Those who are sensitive to pollens and molds get a double dose of nose trouble during the mold and pollination season. The person who is addicted to nosedrops may suffer from nasal congestion that won't disappear until he stops using the medication.

The nasal membrances also respond to problems such as anxiety and mental tension. Nasal stuffiness often ensues in much the same way as tear glands are affected by the emotions.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions relating to health and hygiene in his column, and by mail when self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. Letters should be addressed to Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen, c/o The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta 2, Ga.

Unscramble the 4 sets of letters, making a word of each jumble. Print each word, a letter to a square, beneath each jumble. The letters you have printed on the circled squares may then be arranged to spell the surprise answer suggested by the cartoon clue. What is it? (answer tomorrow)

Seeds Being Treated To Nip Insects in Bud

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—The days when farmers simply put bare seeds in the ground and waited for them to come up are rapidly becoming as obsolete as the paddle-wheel streamer, a University of California at Davis associate professor of entomoloy recently told his colleagues here.

William H. Lange, the professor, predicted streamlined farming of the future will depend on seeds already packaged in a protective wrapping of hormones, antibiotics, insecticides, fungicides and vitally needed minerals, all designed to boost the seed off to a flying start, a few jumps ahead of the insects.

Religion Frees Many Alcoholics

QUESTION: I have a brother who is a chronic alcoholic. He is interested in religion at times. I want to know what my responsibility is to him?

ANSWER: Alcoholism is both a sickness and a state of moral collapse. The problem is one that calls for both spiritual regeneration and medical care. To meet any physical need, you should contact a competent physician who is fully informed on the problem of alcoholism.

More important, is that your brother have a spiritual regeneration. I have known many to be instantly and permanently liberated from this curse through such a spiritual transformation. Most alcoholics would like to be free of the curse at times, but their resistance is too low to overcome the problem alone. The glory of the Christian gospel is that when the person commits himself to Jesus Christ, he receives the forgiveness of sins and finds a constant companion to enable him to overcome this dread curse.

Jesus said to those who had believed on Him, "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee" and this is the answer to your brother's problem.

Justice Is Blind But Full of Words

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Nine teenagers who were caught shooting firecrackers here have been sentenced to copy 25 times the 500-word act "prohibiting the purchase, sale, transportation, possession, advertisement and use of pyrotechnics in the State of North Carolina."

City Judge Sam M. Cathey also reminded them in a courtroom lecture that fireworks and explosives are major causes of blindness and loss of fingers and hands.

Cathey knew whereof he spoke. He was blinded years ago by a dynamite explosion.

IS WEIGHT CONTROL YOUR PROBLEM?

Trim

SPECIAL DIET BREAD

To help burn up excess body fats you need a daily supply of balanced animal and vegetable protein. You can get this in...

Only 47.4 calories per 18 gram slice!

Eight ounces of Trim will supply 45.5% of the daily requirements of protein for an active woman 25 years of age.

Compared with other foods as you buy them, Trim Special Diet Bread gives you generous quantities of balanced protein. Trim Bread contains as much protein in one pound (one loaf) as 3 pints of whole milk, or 8 fresh eggs, or 2½ pork chops.

The following table lists the percentages by weight or amounts of the food substances in Trim Special Diet Bread essential to body tissue growth and repair:

|---|---|
| Proteins—11.0% | Minerals—2.1% |
| Calcium—0.08% | Lactalbumin—3.1% |
| Vitamin $B_1$—2.0 MGS./LB. | Vitamin $B_2$—1.3 MGS./LB. |
| Niacin—18.8 MGS./LB. | Iron—14.8 MGS./LB. |

Trim Special Diet Bread has been fortified with lactalbumin, a milk protein containing lysine, an essential amino acid that provides nitrogen balance. What does this mean in terms of nutrition to a person interested in weight control? Simply this. These two food substances added to bread enable the body to convert 100% of the protein intake from bread for its use. Bread without lysine, only 80% of the protein can be converted and from bread without milk solids and lactalbumin only 20% of the protein can be converted for body use.

Thus, Trim with these added food substances not only is high in protein but provides a nitrogen balance so necessary for body tissue growth and repair.

Then too, remember it takes protein to burn up body fats. So, if weight control is a problem with you, be sure to eat foods high in protein. Buy Trim Special Diet Bread. Try Trim today!

Trim is a bread for young and old alike.

A high protein food such as Trim has additional benefits for young and old alike. Because protein assists the body in calcium conversion, children need this important food substance for the growth and maintenance of healthy bones and teeth.

As we grow older our bones become more brittle so that older people too have need for this assist in calcium conversion that comes from a food that is high in balanced protein.

And Trim tastes good-toasts good, too!

HOME-MADE ART GOES UP AT ATLANTA OUTDOOR ARTS FESTIVAL
Miss Virginia Boyd Inspects a Painting at Piedmont Park

Piedmont Park Dons Its Gaudiest Dress As Art Festival Opens With Works of 500

By DON BAIRD

Piedmont Park brushed the mud from her best dress Wednesday and revealed a gorgeous multicolored petticoat of watercolor, casein, oil and what-have-you.

The occasion was the opening of the fourth annual Arts Festival of Atlanta, a five-day showcase of paintings, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry, music, theater and ballet produced by more than 500 artists.

Artists, would-be artists, spectators and French poodles braved the mud puddles to practice their gregariousness among 160 panels of art, the largest display in the festival's history. Many artists stood fast by their works, ready to hawk them to interested art-lovers, while others refused to part with their gems for any price.

And the famed North Fulton Special Choir, in dinner jackets and gay pastel evening dresses, offered an enthralling concert from the bandstand, directed by Robert S. Lowrance Jr. Strains of "O-o-ok-la-homa" mingled with the weaving of the potters' wheels and looms, while tired eyes rested on impressions of laughing clowns, nudes, trees and other masterpieces.

The mediums included everything from mixtures of oil and cork and brass to paintings that appeared as if they were drawn with a warm candy bar.

The festival is free for the looking. Other special events to be presented evenings through Sunday include the Southern Ballet of Atlanta, Atlanta Civic Ballet, East Atlanta Elementary Band, Playmakers, puppets, Opera Arts Assn., and a story hour by the Atlanta Public Library.

John Mann To Manage Jekyll Isle

By BRUCE GALPHIN

Jekyll Island's resident manager was replaced by a professional engineer Wednesday.

John M. Mann of Atlanta will succeed James L. Asher immediately as full-time manager of the resort island.

State Auditor B. E. Thrasher Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Jekyll Island Authority, told Asher in a letter that the Authority felt it "necessary to have . . . a person with experience in city management, engineering, operating requirements of a governmental agency and also experience in the operation of State Parks."

Mann was an engineer with the State Highway Dept. from 1931 to 1941. He served as city engineer of Fitzgerald from 1941 to Aug., 1942, and served during the war as a lieutenant colonel in the Army Corps of Engineers. He has been with the State Parks Dept. since 1948, where he has been assistant director and chief engineer.

The new manager will receive $10,000 a year salary. He has been earning $6,600 a year.

Asher drew $7,200 a year and his wife $2,400 a year for secretarial services. Thrasher said Asher would receive a check covering 60 days' notice and Mrs. Asher 30 days'.

Thrasher said the Authority does not have anything against Asher and regrets "you do not possess the qualifications that we believe necessary for the island manager."

Now's the Time for Steak

By JEAN HIGGINS DEAVER

These warm days turn the food shopper's thoughts to outdoor cooking. And, according to reports from the markets, this week will be a good time to make the menu steak.

Betty R. Alexander, local expert on food marketing, suggests adding a few choice cuts to the freezer supply. She added that although prices aren't at their lowest they are likely to be higher as the season progresses.

The other favorites are features this weekend—strawberries and chicken. The strawberry is definitely at its peak now and, weather permitting, will last for another week. But don't wait long to can or freeze.

Strawberries are arriving mainly from Alabama, Tennessee, Louisiana and Florida. And proper care for the berries begins the moment they are selected.

FRESH, CLEAN, BRIGHT

First, be sure they are fresh, clean and bright red with green caps attached. There should be no moisture, dirt or decay spots. Make them the last purchase before leaving the store. Roll them carefully into a flat dish or pan, pick out any even slightly decayed ones and cover with waxed paper. Place in the refrigerator and use within two or three days.

Strawberries should not be washed until just before using. Then wash them quickly in cold water, lifting them out and letting any sand and dirt settle to the bottom. Remove caps after the berries are clean and dry.

When freezing berries, two-thirds quart will make one pint frozen. To freeze, cover with a cold syrup of half sugar and half water, or to dry-pack, combine one cup of sugar with four cups of fruit. Either process will keep the berries for eight to 12 months.

SALUTE TO CHICKEN

Chicken is being saluted Friday and Saturday at the annual Georgia Poultry Festival in Gainesville. The poultry industry reports an excellent supply in all sizes of fryers, stewers, baking hens and turkeys. And all will be good values for the food shopper.

There's no change in the egg picture. All supplies are heavy and prices are low.

Bananas and pineapple are excellent buys. And for variety, there are both cantaloupes and watermelons in the markets.

GREEN BEANS

Fresh green beans, snaps and poles, are moving out of south Georgia in volume now. Supplies are good and so is the quality. Yellow squash is cheaper this week. Cucumbers, lettuce and celery are cheap enough to make them attractive to the shopper.

Green onions and cabbage from local supplies are down in price and the quality is fair. New potatoes are cheaper than old ones. And dry onions and carrots have advanced some in price due to bad weather in Texas.

Canned food departments also offer values this week. Special ones to look for are peaches, plums, apple sauce, pork and beans and some frozen products such as strawberries, spinach and chicken pies.

Cardinal Club To Welcome New Members

Mrs. Mercer Poole, president of the Cardinal Garden Club, will be hostess at a luncheon Tuesday, May 21, at the Cherokee Club, honoring four new members. The luncheon at noon will follow the regular May meeting at 10:30 o'clock.

The new members are Mrs. Eugene A. Baylis, Mrs. George C. Gardner, Mrs. Homer Dowling and Mrs. H. P. Whitehead.

Mrs. L. William Dilts, second vice president and program chairman, will introduce the guest speaker, Mrs. Thomas Little, who will show color slides and describe the Williamsburg Gardens. Continuing the horticulture program theme for the year, "Flowering Shrubs," Mrs. Fred L. Cannon will display a flowering shrub specimen and discuss its history and culture.

A report on the Cardinal Club's participation in the show of the Junior Flower Show Assn. scheduled for Oct. 8 and 9 will be made by the flower show chairman, Mrs. George A. Penninkton, who is also second vice president of the association. Mrs. James T. Redd will report progress in landscaping and maintenance of the entrance to Hillside Cottages, the club's project.

Spot of Beauty Amid Concrete

My neighbor across the alley continues to shame me. Progress in the form of concrete block walls and cinder surfaced parking areas has invaded his domain. The infirmity of age has slowed his step, bent his back and, I noticed this morning, frosted his head.

And he still has the prettiest garden I know!

For 11 years this neighbor's talent with growing things has been a thorn in my flesh. He is an elderly colored man who lives in the servants' quarters of the big house across the alley. It's funny but typical of most city dwellers, I suppose, that I have only the foggiest idea of what the house looks like from the front. I have never so much as exchanged a good morning with the white people who own it and the man's wife, who passes swiftly through the yard, crisp and neat in her maid's uniform, is only a vague figure to me.

But the gardener is my friend. Through the years when most of the street has slept we've been up and outside inspecting the world together. We have chatted of the weather and slugs and aphids and the curious and capricious ways of practically everything I plant. (Everything he plants is steady and reliable—solid citizen type bulbs, bushes and seeds that know their responsibilities and meet them nobly.)

For years his flowers have made me the greenest thing on my side of the fence. I've yearned for roses like his and marvelled at the size and splendor of his dahlias. His vegetable garden down on the slope at times infuriated me. Why, I wondered, did lettuce and beans, cabbages and corn, radishes and little baby onions and new potatoes feel an obligation to flourish for him . . . and they wouldn't even come up on my side of the fence?

He has consoled me when I failed to keep the envy out of my "Good-morning."

"You got pretty trees," he would say. "When you got pretty trees be thankful."

So now and then I've stopped fighting the shade and simply pulled up a deck chair and enjoyed it, taking my pleasure in the harvest vicariously.

Then progress came in. The people who own the house across the alley decided to make a parking area in the back yard. Workmen came and built a great concrete block retaining wall. Trucks hauled in pallid fill dirt and packed it down on the fertile slope where once his garden grew. The whole thing was topped off with gray rock.

I knew my friend, the gardener, had been ill. He told me he was getting old. I figured his gardening days were over. Then I began to notice a little spot near the back door. It's no bigger than your living room rug and not nearly so smooth. In fact, it is a humpy, misshapen piece of earth, mostly shady.

And yet he has done beautiful things with it. Gradually, working slowly, he has terraced it, hauling in rich dirt and making tiny little flower beds in which all manner of things thrive. He has saved out an infinitesimal patch for a lawn and carefully fertilized and watered it. Pots with trailing vines fill the very bare and shady places.

Beyond my dark and weedy lot, beyond the parking lot where the sun glints hotly on the tops of cars, this little area of beauty rests the eyes and lifts the heart.

Shame me? It does and then it inspires me. Sometimes I think I'm seeing the parable of the talents in action.

Rhododendron Club To Meet

The Rhododendron Club will meet at the home of Mrs. B. E. Hatch, Conyers, on Wednesday, May 22, at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Charles Ottley Morris will show a film, "Now for Tomorrow."

New officers are Mrs. Edgar S. Van Sant, president; Mrs. Walter Slayden and Mrs. Ed Miller, vice presidents; Mrs. Fred M. Bell, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles H. McFee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. V. Stodghill, treasurer; Mrs. O. F. Sealy, auditor; Mrs. L. G. Baumhauer, historian, and Mrs. R. C. Melton, parliamentarian.

MUSICAL AND ENGAGED—SHE'LL PLAY FIRST SOLO UNDER HIM

Miss Natalie Wyatt and Harry Kruger Studied Music Together in Boston

Sinfonietta Under Atlanta Stars To Feature Flutist and Fiance

By ELIZABETH MORGAN

The flute solo that Miss Natalie Wyatt will play at the Arts Festival of Atlanta is a prelude to a marriage duet with her conductor.

The young flutist is marrying Harry Kruger, assistant conductor of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, on Aug. 21. The 27-year-old native Atlantan is conducting the Kruger Sinfonietta Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Piedmont Park. Miss Wyatt will star in the Bach B Minor Suite for Flute and Strings. She has played under his baton many times here and in New England, but this is her first solo performance.

Mr. Kruger, who started playing flute with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra when he was 17, went to Boston for his musical studies. At the New England Conservatory of Music he met Miss Wyatt, a native Bostonian.

FRESH IDEA

Mr. Kruger took his present job in 1955, and Miss Wyatt, who will start playing flute with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra next year, came to Atlanta in 1956.

Mr. Kruger's sinfonietta is a fresh idea for Atlanta's musical world. Organized when he returned to Atlanta, the group specializes in chamber symphony music (written for small ensembles.) Its small size (12 musicians associated with the Atlanta Symphony) enables the group to perform almost anywhere.

Last year backers of the growing Arts Festival asked the sinfonietta to play. This year the musical group asked to be included in this popular event which brings together Atlantans and the fine arts.

But the sinfonietta does not limit its repertoire to chamber music. The husky, enthusiastic director adapts scores for larger instrumentation to the needs of his group. His brown eyes sparkled as he described his efforts:

Where an ordinary orchestral score may call for three flutes and four french horns, the sinfonietta has one flute and two horns. Players in the small group have to work harder, for wherever they have a rest in their own part, they are given a missing instrument's music to play . . . properly transposed by Mr. Kruger.

"It's complicated to do," he explained, "and the tonal qualities differ from the original production, but sometimes the texture of the music actually improves. It's strange how adaptible music is. Howard Hanson (an American composer) was amused and impressed when I told him how I had rearranged one of his big scores."

BOTH TEACH

The engaged musicians both teach music and instrumentation in the Atlanta elementary schools. Tall, blonde Miss Wyatt laughed as she described her young students: "There are long periods when nothing happens, the instruments sound terrible, and then all of a sudden they sound good. It's really rewarding." And she mentioned that her fiance has "excellent success with young brass players."

Mr. Kruger, who once conducted in a tornado at the Boston arts festival, is enthusiastic about the development of the Atlanta festival.

Miss Wyatt, used to the great variety of music in Boston, said, "Sometimes I feel isolated here in Atlanta, but I like being in a city that is still growing. In Boston everything's the same every year."

And she will have a chance to enjoy more growth, because Mr. Kruger described his ambition this way: "I'd like to take some city with potential in this country that should have a symphony orchestra and doesn't. I want to build up my own orchestra."

Hemerocallis Leaders Go To Valdosta

Mrs. T. E. Tolleson, president of the Georgia Hemerocallis Society, and Mrs. Hugh Lester, a former president, are in Valdosta to attend that city's eighth annual Hemerocallis Show on Friday, May 17.

The event is being sponsored by the Valdosta Hemerocallis Club in cooperation with the American Hemerocallis Society.

Although the regular show is set for Friday, events also will be held Saturday, the two days being officially listed as the "Valdosta Hemerocallis Festival."

A banquet Friday evening at the Valdosta Country Club will honor Wilmer B. Flory, president of the American Hemerocallis Society.

The Georgia society's members will gather for breakfast and their annual meeting on Saturday morning. Mrs. Tolleson will preside.

Representatives of region five, comprising Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina, of the American Hemerocallis Society, will gather for luncheon on Saturday, with the regional supervisor, Mrs. D. O. Holman, presiding.

Among famous hemerocallis gardens to be open for the two-day festival are those of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Kennon, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley McLeod, Mrs. Richard Parrish, Clyde B. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Register, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schroer, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mederers, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie George and W. L. Roberts.

Atkins Park Club To Meet Friday

Atkins Park Garden Club will meet Friday, May 17, at the home of Mrs. Wayne S. Aiken at 1112 St. Charles Pl., NE. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. E. L. Harling, Mrs. J. H. Johnson and Mrs. George W. Wannamaker.

Following the business session with Mrs. Fred M. Bell presiding, Mrs. W. H. Brock will speak on "Arranging Spring Blossoms." Mrs. J. O. Martin will judge arrangements to be exhibited by the hostess.

Virginia Alumni Plan Supper Party

By MARGARET McLEMORE

The Peachtree Golf Club will be the scene of a cocktail supper party to be given Friday, May 24, by the University of Virginia's Atlanta Alumni Club.

The men are in charge of all arrangements for the gala—all they have asked is for their respective wives to circle the date.

Chairmen for the party are Roy Dorsey and Russell Armentrout. They also are reservations chairmen.

Club officers are Norris Broyles, president; Mr. Dorsey, vice president, and "Cotty" Graves, secretary-treasurer.

Among those who will attend are Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moon Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. Preston Bradford, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Rasmussen and Dr. Minor Blackford.

AT HOME to their friends are Mr. and Mrs. James S. Stutts of 83 Huntington Rd., NE, who have returned from their wedding trip to Florida.

Mrs. Stutts is the former Mrs. Jane Ball Tiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Q. Ball. The couple was married May 4 at the Forrest Park Baptist Church in the presence of the immediate families.

THE YOUNG MARRIED contingent predominated at the dance Tuesday at the Cherokee Club; Charlie Spivak's orchestra was the drawing card. Most of the members of this club danced to his music during high school and college days.

Among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. John Shea, Mr. and Mrs. George Braungart, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGaughey, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Tucker Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Dryman.

Asking for encores for "Star Dust" were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Preacher. They had fun talking over old times with Mr. and Mrs. "Buck" Doyal. Others included Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Pierson, Club President Howard Stillwell and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Lea Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Call Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. John Owen.

THE MANY RELATIVES and friends of the former Martha Sibley, Mrs. Byron George of Northport, Long Island, N.Y., are busy traveling to the John A. Sibley farm in Marietta to see the visitor and her two children, John Sibley George and little Deborah. Mr. George is due to come down by June 1 to join his family and to accompany them home.

THE WIFE of Sen. Talmadge was honor guest recently at a luncheon given in the nation's capital by the Georgia State Society, the oldest state society in Washington.

Only flowers native to Georgia were used at the party, which was attended by approximately 200 women. Mrs. Robert Ramspeck, at the invitation of Bob Neal of Cartersville, presided at the luncheon. Mr. Neal is president of the Georgia State Society.

Topic of conversation was vacation time, and most of them hope to travel back to Georgia in time for the watermelon and peach season.

INTERESTING VISITORS are Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Laursen of New York City who are house guests of Mrs. Laursen's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer S. Brewer of Mt. Paran road.

It's the first visit to Atlanta for Mr. Laursen, a native of Copenhagen, Denmark, and he is busy sightseeing. He plans to see the Cyclorama and Stone Mountain before he and his family—they have three children—leave Friday.

Mr. Laursen is a member of the Danish Information Service in New York City.

ROUND TOWN—John L. Conner, newly elected national vice president of the Navy League of the United States, and Mrs. Conner will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Lane and the commandant of the Sixth Naval District, Adm. G. C. Crawford and Mrs. Crawford, in Charleston Friday and Saturday for the annual meeting of the South Carolina Bankers Assn. of which Mr. Lane is president. . . . Mrs. L. O. # Queen of Air Reserve Is Caught in a Whirl

By BETTY CARROLLTON

Georgia's Miss Air Reserve is in a whirl.

In fact, pretty Sue Reeves, queen of the state's Air Force Reserve squadrons, had to call on all her reserve energy as she began her hectic reign.

"It's worth the trouble—and more," Sue declared, flashing a bright smile, "but I am kind of hungry."

Sue was called away from an early breakfast to make her television debut in Atlanta. Afterwards, before she could order lunch, she was interviewed by reporters.

Then she had to dash to don her costume and take her place on the Air Force Reserve float for Wednesday's parade down Peachtree street, an event Sue termed a highlight of the day.

The dark-eyed brunette was sponsored by the 9901st Air Reserve Squadron in Columbus, her home town. She was selected "Miss Air Reserve" for the state of Georgia at a dinner given by the Information Services Flight of Atlanta's Air Reserve Center. She was crowned by Brig. Gen. Arno H. Leuhman, chief of information services for the U.S. Air Force with headquarters in the Pentagon.

SPARKLE, GLEAM

"This is just about the most thrilling thing that's ever happened to me," Sue announced, the sparkle in her brown eyes matched only by the gleam of brass from insignia of top-ranking Air Force personnel at the dinner.

"I'm not as air-minded as I'd like to be," Sue declared. "I've only flown in small planes a couple of times. But one of the nicest things about being Miss Air Reserve is the opportunity to visit various bases. I hope to make several flights."

"TOO EXCITED"

Although she is still "too excited to think straight," Sue welcomes a six-day trip to Miami that comes with her title. She'll fly to Florida via Eastern Air Lines.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Reeves, Sue is secretary to the editor of the Columbus Enquirer, and is putting aside part of her weekly salary to further her education.

A graduate of Jordan Vocational High School, the 18-year-old beauty will enroll at the University of Georgia to major in home economics.

Plans are under way for the young charmer to visit all of Georgia's Air Reserve units, as well as other Air Force installations. She will participate in the Armed Forces Day parade in Columbus Friday, and will be among special guests at the Miss Georgia beauty pageant.

Pollock, Carrollton Vows Said

MONROE, May 15—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Marshall Pollock announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Florence Arnold Pollock, to Ronald William Carrollton, son of Mrs. Alice Carrollton of Monroe.

The wedding took place in Aiken, S.C., with the Rev. James L. Goodwin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating.

A graduate of Monroe High School, the bride completed her education at the University of Georgia, where she received a degree in home economics. She was a member of the Phi Mu Sorority. At present, she is a teacher in the Atlanta Public School system.

Mr. Carrollton, also a graduate of Monroe High School, served in the Army for three years following a year's study at Georgia Military College. He received a B.S. degree in physical education from the University in June.

During the summer months, he will continue to supervise the recreational program in Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrollton are living in Monroe.

Bar Mitzvah

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sugarman announce the Bar Mitzvah of their son, Kenneth Perry, Saturday, May 25, at 9 a.m. at the Ahavath Achim Synagogue. Mr. and Mrs. Sugarman will entertain for him at a reception Sunday, May 26, from 2 to 5 p.m. at their home, 837 Durant Pl., NE.

YOUR STARS TODAY

Daily Guide — Many people seem to think that they should only go ahead with things on the so-called good days, but this is not the way to use astrology at all. We use the weather almanac to find out what kind of weather to expect, and then we decide whether to take an umbrella, what to wear, and how far we can expect to get with our plans.

There are many useful things which can be accomplished even against the greatest odds. So while waiting during the next few hours for the better timing to get projects under way, in the late hours of tomorrow, or better still Saturday, don't be idle, but perfect your plans, clear up little details, put things in order so there will be no delays when the recent congestion breaks up and the way is clear to go ahead.

Happy Birthday, Taurus! If things have been a little bumpy lately, take heart, as from now on a more favorable period begins. The longer look ahead is for changes in home or domestic conditions, but you may still only notice the irritations or restlessness. Don't take any drastic action yet, especially at the end of June.

Put finances on a very conservative long-pull basis. In personal relationships, don't accept too much without investigation or take other people for granted; they may not be giving you the whole truth. Working conditions should improve in the fall and through next year.

Burgess PTA Sets Meeting

H. O. Burgess PTA will meet Tuesday, May 21, at 10:30 a.m.

Officers to be installed are Mrs. B. H. Martin Jr., president; Mrs. A. L. Keane and Mrs. E. E. Fort, vice presidents; Mrs. J. F. Cason, recording secretary; Mrs. L. O. Leftwich, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Glen Spry, treasurer.

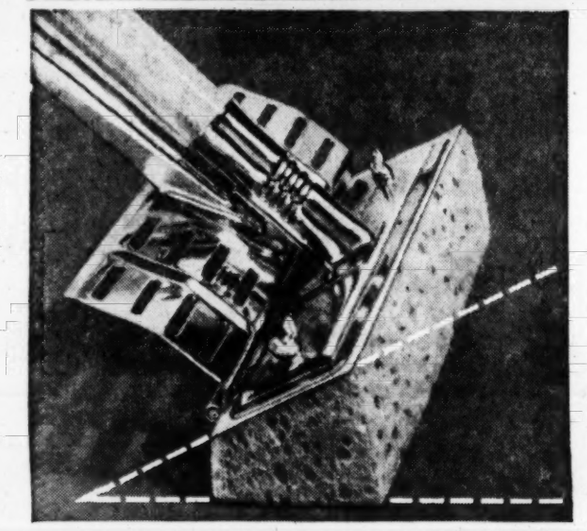

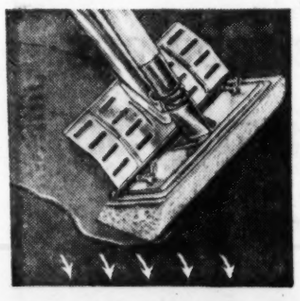

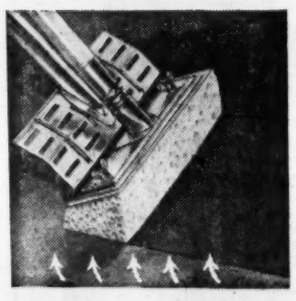

Coffee will be served at 10 a.m.

SHORTCUTS SPRING CLEANING—EVERY DAY CLEANING—DOES AWAY WITH PAIL, WATER, POWDER, SOAP—FOR DOZENS OF TIRESOME CHORES

PAINTED WOODWORK —CLEAN IN A JIFFY
No sloppy pail or harsh powders! Just touch the button—the froth is on. Then "whisk"—fingerprints, smudges are gone!
Lacy white froth sprays on ...dirt wipes right off

SEE WINDOWS SPARKLE when you clean them with this lovely, lacy white froth. The dry cloth gives the final polish—instantly. No powdery dust to wipe away.
New Jet Bon Ami will change your whole way of cleaning...shortcut dozens of tiresome chores like nothing you've ever used before! Windows, porcelain, tile, chrome, even painted woodwork come clean in a jiffy! No water or wet rags, no pail or powdery mess!
Just spray on a lacy white froth. Wipe dirt right off with a dry cloth. Easiest cleaning ever.
A stingy little bit—just a whisper of froth—cleans better than a lot. Froth spreads as you wipe—cleans 3 times its own area...very economical. And when you use a stingy little bit of froth, the surface wipes dry faster, easier...shines clear and bright...without a trace of film or streaking.

SEE PORCELAIN SHINE. Just spray, wipe! Dirt's off! Sparkle's on! It's that quick ...that easy. Hands never even get wet with remarkable new Jet Bon Ami.
AND LISTEN PET— when you clean with Jet, you can take it easy sooner!

Gomulka Says Poles Can Differ

WARSAW, May 15 (AP)—Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka appealed for unity in the face of economic woes in a six-hour speech today to the Polish party Central Committee.

There were signs that Gomulka and his closest associates were preparing a stronger line against the Stalinist Old Guard.

In discussing policy, he said other countries of the Communist bloc are entitled to follow a "road to socialism" different from that of the Soviet Union because of changed conditions today.

Perhaps encouraged by recent disclosure o a new Communist interpretation voiced by Red China's Mao Tze-tung, the Polish Communist chief told the committee: "The victory of socialism in the Soviet Union and the transition of other countries over the socialist construction have created a historically new situation, in which the road to socialism can take other forms than those of the road to socialism in the Soviet Union, in a different historical situation."

Gomulka, who won back power last year through popular support of his defiance of Stalinism, also appealed to restive Polish workers not to aggravate the nation's critical economic position by striking. He pledged that "administrative measures—meaning repression — would not be used against them.

Marines Turn Livid Over Livery But General Suits His Chauffeur

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP) — The Marines today were slightly livid over livery.

A Marine spokesman finally admitted under questioning that it really was true that on occasion the commandant, Gen. Randolph Pate, clothed his personal Marine drivers in chauffeur's black uniforms.

Gen. Pate

Ironically, the disclosure came not long after Pate, a stickler for uniform regularity, said it was his "personal preference" that Marines on duty wear their uniforms as a matter of pride despite a Defense Department order permitting the wearing of civilian clothes.

The only explanation of why Pate put his sergeant drivers in civilian livery was that he found it "more suitable" on occasion.

One of the drivers, M/Sgt. Edwin P. Droke, said he liked the chauffeur's garb.

Droke said he wore the chauffeur's uniform about half the time, mostly at night when the general was wearing civilian clothes.

Denmark's Premier Resigns After Setback to Socialists

COPENHAGEN, May 15 (AP)—Premier H. C. Hansen today handed the resignation of his Social Democratic Danish government to King Frederik.

Hansen's party lost four Parliament seats in general elections yesterday and its strength was cut to 70 seats out of 175 elected. Hansen's party is still the largest in Parliament but he realized the difficulties ahead in governing against an opposition that gained power after the elections.

Political sources said the King will probably ask Erik Eriksen, chairman of the Agrarian party and one of the election winners, to form a new government. With his party's 45 seats—a gain of three—and 30 Conservative seats former Premier Eriksen could form a right-wing coalition government with a good chance of stability.

ROA To Hear Brown

AS I SEE IT

Fight TV Boredom, Watch 'Other' Show

By PAUL JONES

Did you ever go shopping for something new on television?

Try it sometime. Give up your old viewing habits for a night and sample some of the other shows on different stations.

You might stumble up on something interesting.

We did a little sampling of different shows Tuesday night and ran across two programs which have particular merit.

Jones

I Search for Adventure has been listed in the TV log for several weeks now. It originally was set in at 7 p.m. on Channel 2. And it recently was moved to the 10 p.m. spot, opposite Rosemary Clooney. We have been Rosemary Clooney fans for years and have followed her show regularly throughout this season. We decided to stand Rosemary up for a night and look at the Adventure series for a change. The experience was rewarding.

Adventure depicted the experiences of a couple, endowed with that pioneer spirit, who maneuvered a large raft down the treacherous River of No Return in Idaho.

Along the way, the couple—Mr. and Mrs. Fredric Christian—stopped to film scenes of mountain goats, beaver, bear and other wild life as well as some interesting signs left by the Indians of long ago.

This series, we understand, is based on actual adventures experienced by people in various parts of the world. The films are backed by good background music and authoritative commentary. They have an element of suspense you usually find only in the professional dramatic films. And, if the Christians' adventure is any criterion, this series is highly educational.

THE OTHER SHOW we "discovered" is the Red Skelton comedy program, which shows on Channel 5 at 8:30 p.m. Normally we would be looking at one of the dramatic shows on the other channels.

We don't mean to imply that this was the first time we had seen Skelton on TV. He long has been one of our favorite comedians. But, his show has been passed up in favor of a drama for so long that it was a welcome change of pace to see him work again the other night.

Red has an especially good show. Jayne Meadows and Vincent Price were his guests and they participated in one of the wackiest comedy skits you've ever seen on television.

It was reminiscent of some of the old Mack Sennett pie-throwers—but what fun.

As a steady diet, Skelton could become a bore, maybe. But, so could most any show on television.

If you will mix up your televiewing by tuning in some different shows—sample some that you haven't seen before or haven't been exposed to in a long while, you will find television has lots to offer in the way of diversion.

LIGHTNING DOES STRIKE twice in the same place. Bob Van Camp, host on WSB's popular Morning Melodies, says two bolts had him "all shook up" Tuesday during a thunderstorm here.

Bob was at his home on Lake Forest Lane when a streak of the electrical stuff struck a tree near his house. Before he could catch his breath, a second bolt came ripping out of the sky and smacked the same spot.

A plumber who was working in the basement of Bob's home was floored by the second blast.

GOULD LOOKS AT TV

The New Ed Wynn A Fine Actor, Too

By JACK GOULD

NEW YORK, May 15—Ed Wynn attained new stature tonight in his budding career as a dramatic player with a warmly sincere and quietly humorous performance in "The Great American Hoax," presented on the Twentieth Century-Fox Hour. The program was one of the season's delights.

"The Great American Hoax" is based on a story by Paddy Chayefsky and was done as a motion picture under the title of "As Young As You Feel." Adapted for TV by Devery Freeman, the vehicle is one of substance and delicate charm, qualities which Wynn thoroughly captured.

Gould

The central figure is a printer who is employed in a huge complex corporate structure and is devoted to his craft. A blanket policy ordering retirement of all employes reaching the age of 65 puts him out of work. Counterfeiting the stationery of the parent company, the printer sends a letter announcing the imminent arrival of the president of the firm.

The president is, of course, the printer. He directs that the policy on retirement be rescinded. Then the printer is dragged into making a public speech and he makes a moving plea for the dignity and usefulness of old age. Response is so favorable that the true president ultimately endorses the old man's views.

Wynn was superb. The erstwhile clown in the funny little hats played his part with a moving simplicity and dedication which made the whole hoax seem both plausible and worthwhile. In the play's lighter moments there was a subdued twinkle in his eye that always was nicely restrained. Wynn is back on top for sure.

As a supporting company Conrad Nagel was very fine as the real corporate head who had both understanding and judgment. Walter Abel was appropriately blustery as the subsidiary executive who had been duped. Kathleen Crowley was excellent as the granddaughter. Jesse White and Peg LaCentra rounded out the list of principals. The direction by Don Weis was of the first order.

Twentieth Century-Fox Co. can take pride in a fine hour beautifully turned.

MILITARY MIGHT PARADES DOWN PEACHTREE ON ARMED FORCES DAY

BRUCKER DEFENDS BUDGET

Thousands See Military Flex Its Muscles Here

By FRANK WELLS

America's real Power for Peace—its youth—marched down Peachtree street Wednesday in an Armed Forces Day parade reviewed by the Secretary of the Army and flag officers of all the services.

Just prior to the parade, Secretary of the Army William M. Brucker told a Chamber of Commerce luncheon:

"A pillar of peace is military might—not as a bully but quietly standing staunch and fast and saying, 'We will not be trampled on!'"

The might displayed in the parade amply backed up his statement.

The warriors of the 101st Airborne Division, who boast "First at Bastogne" on their insignia, shouted "Geronimo" as they passed the reviewing stand.

Atlanta saw the mighty weapons of war—guided missiles, including Honest John, Nike and Corporal; tanks and armored artillery pieces; machine gun and mortar-carrying jeeps, and 12 F84Es, of the 482nd Fighter Bomber Wing, Air Force Reserve, screamed four times over the parade route.

Brucker, speaking at the luncheon, said, "Youth is willing, but they want everyone to close ranks for strength. This is the real reason for Armed Forces Day."

Brucker defended the Defense Department's budget requests, saying, "It is far better to err on the side of having a little too much rather than having a little too little. No one knows what is enough in weapons."

"The Soviet sunshine and smiles have proven to be a false face and whiskers," the Army secretary continued to the crowd of more than 1,000 at the luncheon. "Russia has shown how ruthless it can be in the use of naked force when it battered down the desperate demonstration for freedom in Hungary."

Brucker defended the government's military assistance program, saying, "It is paying handsome dividends in security."

After the luncheon, Brucker left the Dinkler Plaza to take his place on the reviewing stand at Five Points. With him were Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, commanding general, Third Army, officers of the armed forces and city and county officials.

Army troops came from Fort Bragg, Fort Benning, Fort McClellan and Fort McPherson. The Marine Corps was represented by a drum and bugle corps, the Navy by a band and marching unit.

The 14th Air Force Band from Donaldson Air Force Base and a marching unit represented the Air Force. Reserve units of all the armed forces marched down Peachtree, as did units of the National Guard. ROTC units from colleges and high schools passed the reviewing stand.

The armed forces celebration did not end with Wednesday's parade. Fort McPherson plans to hold open house for the public May 17, and will display military equipment worth more than $4 million at that time.

OWN YOUR HOME FOR $23 PER MO.!
THAT'S not a typographical error. Twenty-five dollars a month is correct. We have just three BRICK duplexes, less than 5 yrs. old, in fast-growing Candler-Glenwood area. EACH SIDE of each duplex has two bedrooms, kitchen-dining room, living room and bath, and rents for $75 per month. Buy one of these BIRCK duplexes, live in one unit, rent the other for $75 and an additional $25 per month will enable you to own your home! Priced at $15,000 each, with $13,000 FHA-type loan available. McAllister or Harwell, DR. 3-9469 after 8 p.m.; day number DR. 8-0262.

LET'S be honest! At this convenient location you can buy a Monterey Tudor Sedan with no extra equipment for less than $2,290; for $365 down and $74.29 per month delivered in Atlanta including financing charges and insurance. But our other 1957 Mercurys with extra equipment will cost you slightly more. But isn't it a good investment to buy from a dealer with a history of providing service at the same location?

Newsboys To 'Auction' Bing, Elvis

By PAUL JONES

Elvis Presley's autograph—on the front of a special Old Newsboys Day edition of The Journal-Constitution—will be auctioned off the highest bidder at 3:30 p.m. Friday in a special ceremony at Plaza Park.

Presley's autographed copy of the paper will be the first of 14 papers autographed by Hollywood stars to be placed on the block by the auctioneer. Other autographs will include: Audrey Hepburn, Paul Newman, Jean Simmons, Pier Angeli, Danny Kaye, William Holden, Yul Bryner, Bob Hope, Elllzabeth Taylor, Rhonda Fleming, Jerry Lewis, Bing Crosby and Mitzi Gaynor.

$100,000 GOAL

These stars signed the papers at their homes in Hollywood and in New York. Special editions were sent to them, special delivery, after they came off the presses almost a week ago.

A special auctioneer, yet to be named, will put all of the autographed papers on the block, taking the highest bid. A large group of teen-agers is expected to attend the auction. Special music will be provided by one of the school bands.

The annual Old Newsboys Day, which gets under way at 11 a.m. Friday with the annual parade, is expected to be the biggest in history. The Old Newsboys will be aiming at a goal of $100,000, all of which will go to the support of the Atlanta Cerebral Palsy School-Clinic on Ponce de Leon avenue. This school provides therapy and schooling for some 100 children. The Atlanta Variety Club and The Constitution and Journal jointly sponsor the annual Newsboys Day.

UNION COOPERATES

A large group of the Old Newsboys will represent the United Auto Workers, Local 882, who have agreed to work Friday night in the Hapeville area, conducting a door-to-door canvass.

This union has taken on the Old Newsboys Day activity in this area as its annual project. A committee, representing the 1,700 members, visited the Cerebral Palsy School and were impressed with the importance of the activity there.

They will join thousands of other Old Newsboys, bank presidents, civic leaders, Scouts, fraternity boys, white-collar workers, secretaries, beauty contest winners, showmen and people from all walks of life, who will sell the special papers Friday in the biggest one-day fund-raising event in the nation.

Bread Poisons 1,000

QUITO, Ecuador, May 15 (AP)—Bread made from arsenic-contaminated flour was blamed for the poisoning of about a thousand persons at Cuenca yesterday. There were no fatalities. Authorities are investigating to determine the source of the arsenic.

Youth Goddess Reigns 71 Years Before Fall

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 15 (AP)—For 71 years a statue of Hebe, goddess of youth, has watched over historic Court Square in the center of Montgomery. Today her eternal youthfulness ended.

Errant Lawn Mower Blamed as Truck Slams Pole

A lawn mower figured in a truck crash Wednesday in which two persons were injured, police said.

Nine others also were hurt, none believed seriously, in Atlanta area traffic.

Joe W. Lietch, 58, of 1622 Cecile Ave., SE, was driving a panel truck south in the 700 block of Flat Shoals road, SE, Patrolman R. V. Paschal said he was told a lawn mower in the rear of the truck began to roll. Lietch turned to catch it and the truck left the road and struck a utility pole.

Lietch and a passenger, Joe Woodward, 11, of 655 Stokeswood Ave., SE, were treated at Georgia Baptist Hospital. Paschal said the youth suffered abrasions of the face and hands and a possible fracture of the left arm, while Lietch was treated for lacerations and chest injuries.

Bobby Lewis Robinson, 10, of 244 Harris St., NE, suffered a possible fracture of the right foot while attempting to help start a stalled truck in the 200 block of Butler St., NE. Patrolman P. E. Edwards said the left rear wheel on the truck ran over the youth's foot.

Clifford Mason, 50, of 1144 Cascade Ave., SW, was slightly injured in a three-car crash at Northside drive and Foundry street, NW, police said.

Mrs. Lucy H. Oswald, 55, of 1809 Greystone Rd., was treated at Piedmont Hospital for injuries to the neck and side after a station wagon-auto crash in the 1100 block of Northside drive, NW, Patrolman R. H. Anderson said.

Eleanor June Francis, 17, of 148 Copeland Rd., NE, was quoted as saying she was driving along in the 6000 block of Roswell road, NW, when a package fell from the car seat. She reached for the package and the car struck a utility pole, she said. She suffered bruises and abrasions, police said.

Two teen-agers suffered bruises and lacerations in a traffic incident in the 1500 block of Harbin road, SW, police said. They were John Edwin Byers, 15, of 1359 Lockwood Dr., SW, and Aubrey P. Watson, 16, of 3900 Bakers Ferry Rd., SW.

Three other teen-agers were slightly injured in an auto incident on the Marietta highway. They were Patricia Ann Reese, 14, of 560 Charlotte Pl., NW; Charlotte Gail Smithwick, 14, of 1241 Bankhead Ave., NW, and Mary Eugene Lewis, 15, of 959 Sims Ave., NW.

Scholarly Jockey

Reports rumbling out of Texas haven't made Wallace Butts' summer vacation any happier. Observers who watched the Longhorns in their spring scuffle claim Darrell Royal has organized the disorganized Texans into a slick football machine.

Butts and the Bulldogs will find out for sure on the night of Sept. 21, when Georgia meets Texas in the second half of the big double-header at Grant Field. Coach Bobby Dodd's new-modeled Techs are booked with Kentucky in the afternoon fray.

Outlar

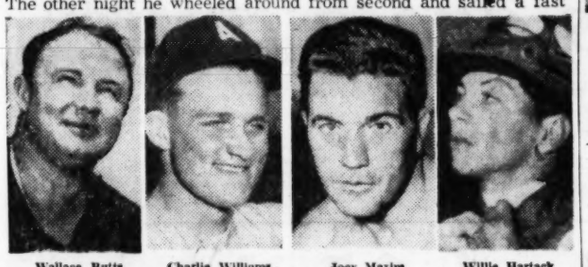

Butts, Dodd and Ray Graves talked football and aired views about the Football Hall of Fame Wednesday at a luncheon. Harry Wright, former Georgia coach and now a vice president with a New York public relations firm, was conducting a survey for the grid organization housed at Rutgers and asked the coaches for their opinions.

Bill DeWitt, in charge of relief aid furnished by the majors for the vanishing minors, is squeezing the purse strings in the same manner in which he used to conduct business in the St. Louis Browns' front office. Several of the patients may be dead before DeWitt gets around to administering relief.

Ford Frick's attempt to silence major league clubs discussing franchise moves to the Coast is ridiculous. After all the popping off Walter O'Malley has done, it's somewhat like telling Willie Shoemaker he shouldn't have pulled up at the sixteenth pole in the Derby. . . . Which reminds me that I think Bold Ruler will beat Iron Liege in the Preakness.

—The Cubs Are a Bum Investment

Quote worth requoting: "I couldn't knock my mother-in-law down if she was standing on a cake of soap."—Joey Maxim. Apparently everyone is aware of it, except the promoters who keep employing Maxim. . . . Rinold Duren, Kansas City's hard-throwing right-hander, is near sighted and has trouble seeing home plate. The other night he wheeled around from second and sailed a fast one under Hank Bauer's chin. "It's bad enough that he can't see the plate," said the Yankee outfielder, "and now he's not even looking."

Wallace Butts | Charlie Williams | Joey Maxim | Willie Hartack

Most efficient pitching arm in the majors during the past few days belongs to the Yankees' Tom Sturdivant. The Birmingham graduate hasn't surrendered an earned run in 27 innings, and has an ERA of 1-15. . . . Hal Reeves, ace swimmer and sports editor of the Technique, created quite a splash in the ballot boxes at the Flats recently, and was elected president of the student body.

Chicago Cub stockholders might as well have their money invested in Alaskan snow, for they haven't reaped a dividend in eight years. But Phil Wrigley, the majority holder, gleans something like $500,000 annually from chewing gum. Speaking of Wrigley, Chicago writers asked him why he didn't try to hire Frank Lane away from the Chisox a few years ago. His reply: "I wouldn't want Frank Lane." Lane probably wouldn't want to work for the Cubs either, for he wouldn't have anyone to trade. . . . Old Jack Onslow, one-time Memphis and Chattanooga manager and one of my favorite characters, is still beating the scouting bushes for the Red Sox.

—Rival Pilots Don't Frighten the Chicks

Paul Dietzel must have hit the jackpot in the recruiting race at LSU, for his frosh squad held the varsity to a 21-12 decision in the annual spring game. And they say the varsity looked good. . . . You don't have to be a brain to be a jockey, but it must help. Brash Willie Hartack, who was the valedictorian of his high school class at Black Lick, Pa., has ridden $599,475 worth of stakes winners this year.

Ever wonder how the term gopher pitch originated? They say Lefty Gomez coined it by saying that pitch should go-fer a homer. . . . Maybe you've heard Gomez's latest Yogi Berra joke, but let's repeat it. When Yogi was asked what size cap he wanted to order last spring he answered: "How would I know? . . . I'm not in shape yet." . . . Ex-Cracker Charlie Williams, who won the bat crown at Nashville two years ago, has been whaling away at a .400 clip for Indianapolis in the American Association.

Bobby Bragan, the Pittsburgh pilot, called the shot on outfielder Dick Stuart when he passed through Atlanta. Asked why he exiled the 66-homer man to Hollywood, Bragan explained that Stuart would have to drive in 100 runs to offset his fielding. He then predicted that Stuart wouldn't make the Hollywood club, unless he showed vast improvement afield. And sure enough, he didn't. . . . Max Baer, now touring the banquet circuit, says he gave Joe Louis his greatest scare in the ring. "Joe thought I was dead when he knocked me down in the fourth round," says Max. . . . Rival Southern managers, who keep saying that Memphis doesn't frighten 'em, certainly haven't given the Chicks any scare. . . . You'd think that Tom Yawkey would purchase Pedro Ramos from Washington just to keep him from pitching against the Bosox. He's chilled the millionaires seven times in two seasons.

Associated Press Wirephoto

IT WAS A FOUL DEAL ALL AROUND —NEW YORK, May 15—Kansas City catcher Hal Smith missed this pop foul at Yankee Stadium Wednesday, the fan lost his hat—but not his cigar—and it was a general foul play all around. The dark object behind fan's back in lower photos is a youngster who also received a foul deal. He was slightly injured by falling fan.

Crackers Get DiPrima Back

Shreveport Slugger Joyner, Pitcher Cave to Rescue, Too

By AL THOMY
Constitution Sports Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 15—Help is on the way from the West.

The Wichita Braves of the American Assn. late Wednesday night assigned outright infielder Frank DiPrima, right-handed pitcher Paul Cave and outfielder Everette Joyner to the Atlanta Crackers.

DiPrima is an institution at Poncey, where he spent the last three years. The scrappy second baseman hit .316 in '54, .309 in '55 and .298 in '56. He is one of the most popular players ever to wear a Cracker uniform.

Frank DiPrima

He is an occassional long ball hitter, with 12, 11 and 13 home runs during those years. Considered one of the better infielders while in the Southern Assn., DiPrima had a spring tryout with the Milwaukee Braves, but was shuttled to Wichita where he has been a utility infielder.

Of the three, Joyner is the most desperately needed. The Crackers have played near .500 ball without visible support from the outfield. Famed Ken Guettler, 62-home run slugger from Shreveport, has yet to strike his first all-the-way blow, and is not getting the other variety either.

Billy Reynolds is not hitting his weight, and Chick King comes more as a fielder than a hitter. The situation is such that manager Buddy Bates has used infielder Dick Phillips and catcher Sammy Taylor as outer defenders.

Joyner, a lanky left-handed batter, hit a sensational .344 for Shreveport of the Texas League last Summer. He teamed with Guettler to give the Sports one of the most powerful outfields in minor leagues. Joyner was No. 2 batsman in the Texas League in '56.

With Ray Shearer, Bob Hazle and Bob Talbot set as Wichita's outfield, Joyner was surplus property there.

Thus, Joyner and Guettler will be reunited as teammates on the Crackers, and it is hoped the presence of his old fence-denting pal will help Guettler snap out of a prolonged slump.

Cave is no stranger to the Crackers.

During a short three-game 1954 stay at Poncey, he won one game and lost one. His earned run average was an unimpressive 12.00, however.

Cave posted a 12-9 chart with Jacksonville of the Sally League in 1955. He fanned 104 batters and walked 69 en route to a 2.05 ERA. Last season with Wichita, Cave went 6-5 record-wise, and compiled a 3.96 ERA. He fanned 80 and walked 56.

He joins left-hander Chet Nichols, another ex-Cracker, among the Wichita players departing for Atlanta.

All of this means one thing: At least three of the present Crackers will be sent to other fields, possibly on Thursday.

That Brunet at Little Rock Embarrasses Crax Again

Peb Lefty Throws One-Hitter To Whitewash Crackers, 3-0

By AL THOMY
Constitution Sports Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 15—In Little Rock, they call him the most striking Brunet in the Southern Assn., and they'll get no argument from Atlanta.

Lefty George Brunet, a bad combination any way you look at him from under Cracker caps, whitewashed Atlanta on one hit as the Travelers won, 3-0, here Wednesday night before a turnout of 1,072.

Only last week he had beaten the Crackers, 8-1, and rationed out four hits for that occasion. The run was unearned. This time there were no runs to be unearned, and only Mel Roach was able to solve his mysterious slants for a hit. Roach singled sharply to right as the first batter in the third, and that was it.

Brunet, a 20-year-old rookie, was kayoed in his first two starts this season, but has won his last four. His 11 strike-outs in Wednesday's game gives him the grand total of 53 in 37 innings

Ten Crackers were whiffed during the earlier game in Poncey.

In those four winning games, Brunet has given up two runs. Here they rate him over Nashville's Jerry Davis, though they get an argument from Sulphur Dell on that score.

His opponent in this one, Earl Mossor, worked a fine game himself, but even Herb Score cannot win without runs. The Travs picked up only five hits off Mossor, who absorbed his first loss after two winning decisions.

The big one was a tremendous home run by Dixie Upright, the veteran who has been benched lately for inability to hit. It came on the second pitch of the fifth inning, and Upright rode it some 400 feet. That was all Brunet needed.

The poised Little Rock lefthander retired nine of the first 10 batters. Only his four bases on balls bothered Brunet during the remainder of the game.

Two Crackers got as far as second base. Chick King forced Mossor, who had walked in the sixth, then swiped second, but Dick Phillips popped to first and Ted Laguna, hitting for injured Ken Guettler, fanned. In the eighth, Brunet issued free passes to Ben Johnson, batting for Mossor, and King, but Phillips grounded out.

First baseman Buck Riddle contributed three strikeouts to the Brunet cause, three of them called, and King chipped in with two.

In all, Brunet faced 32 batters, five over par for the perfect-game course.

On Thursday night, the Crackers find themselves in a position to take the series, 3-1, should Dick Grabowski (3-2) beat righthander Ken Johnson (2-2), another Trav who beat the Crackers at Poncey last week.

Mossor rocked along, matching Brunet's efforts and even surpassing them, until the fourth, when Ben Downs sliced a triple to left. Guettler reinjured his shoulder on the play, and had to leave the game for a pinch-hitter next inning. The triple did no damage, though, as Mossor got Les Peden on an infield pop for the third out.

The second hit did the damage, Upright slammed an inside pitch over the right in the fifth.

In the seventh, Downs (there's that man again) singled to center, and after Peden moved him to second, Upright (him, too) got an intentional pass. Spider Wilhelm whiffed, but Russ Rose doubled

Andrews Killed at Speedway

Crackup Fatal To 500 Driver

INDIANAPOLIS, May 15 (AP) — Keith Andrews, 36-year-old Colorado Springs, Colo., garage owner, was killed today in practice for the annual 500-mile race May 30.

Keith Andrews

Andrews was driving the Italian - American car which was to have been driven in this year's race by Giuseppe Farina, former world's racing champion from Turin, Italy.

Andrews, a veteran dirt track and midget racer who had started in the last two 500-mile races, lost control as he came into the straightaway out of the northwest turn. The car skidded 300 feet side ways, straightened out and went into another skid for 450 feet.

Three Bulldogs Honored at Baseball Banquet

Special to The Constitution

ATHENS, May 15—Ronald Bradley, Don Sparrow and Wayne Minshew received trophies Wednesday night for outstanding performances during Georgia's 1957 baseball season.

They were presented by Athens businessman Ralph Snow at his annual banquet for the team.

Bradley, senior right fielder of Avondale, was voted most valuable player by his teammates; Sparrow, sophomore third baseman-shortstop, won the batting title with a .317 average. Minshew, junior college transfer from West Georgia and a native of Shannon, Ga., was top pitcher with a 5-1 record.

Don Zimmer Swings Homer Hatchet To Scalp Braves, 3-2, in 10th Inning

Infielder's Blast Beats Burdette

MILWAUKEE, May 15 (AP)—Don Zimmer hit the first ball pitched by Lew Burdette in the 10th inning today into the left field stands to provide the Brooklyn Dodgers with a 3-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Zimmer's fourth home run of the season, after the clubs had dueled to a 2-2 tie over the regulation distance, gave the victory to Brooklyn relief ace Clem Labine, his third of the season, without a loss. There were 19,599 fans at County Stadium.

And it was the second time this season Zimmer turned the trick with a homer in the 10th. He provided a similar margin in the Brooks' 10-9 triumph over Chicago April 30. Brooklyn has won four extra-inning games this year with home runs.

Through the top of the sixth, starters Don Drysdale and Gene Conley were matching double shutout performances, each giving up one hit over that distance.

In the Braves' half of the inning, however, the 20-year old Brooklyn righthander trying for his third victory of the season without a defeat got himself into trouble by walking first Danny O'Connell, then Ed Mathews.

Holt Nips Southern With Fast Warmup

South Georgia Belts STI, 5-4, To Go One Up in Playoffs

By PAUL ATKINSON

It took South Georgia right-hander Bud Holt one inning to warm up, but when he did, he was sizzling-hot. Holt, called in from right field, threw six hitless innings to stop Southern Tech, 5-4.

The verdict sent South Georgia, defending Georgia junior college baseball champion, one-up in its best two-of-three semi-final set. The series shifts to Douglas Friday for a second game, and a third—if needed—will go Saturday.

Holt was shoved into the pitching breach by South Georgia coach Bobby Bowden, when his starter Jeryl Pinnell strained his back in the third inning. "I couldn't get warmed up right on such short notice," Holt said.

He was so correct. STI, trailing 2-0, buffeted him for four in that third. A walk to Al Summerford started his demise, and singles by Bobby Causey and Frank Babbitt loaded 'em up. Holt got two forces at the plate, but Fred Trogden sliced a base-clearing triple down the rightfield line and scored moments later when Holt fumbled a simple peg by catcher Don Higgs.

This, however, finished off STI. Holt allowed only four more base runners, all on free tickets.

South Georgia had stashed away two runs in the second. It was again Finch, an Air Force veteran of 28 months service in the Far East, who strolled to start it. He stole second, took third on an error and scored on a squeeze bunt by Holt. Holt moved up on a Pinnell single, sacrifice and tallied on an error.

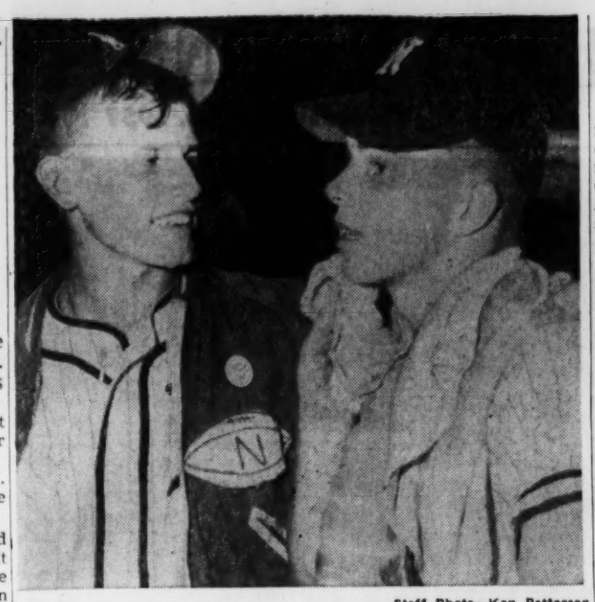

Elliott led South Georgia's eight-hit attack with two hits. Trogden, with his three-RBI triple, led STI.

NORTHSIDE'S 'MR. HIT' AND 'MR. HARD TO HIT'
Max Staples (L), Stan Gann Defeathered Fulton's Redbirds

Gann and Staples Spur Northside Over Fulton

Stan Runs Hit Streak to 11 Straight; Max Hurls 3-Hitter in 5-2 Victory

Northside High's "Mr. Hit" and "Mr. Hard to Hit" were given aid by long-silent "Mr. Slug" and bounced Fulton's Redbirds, 5-2, in the first game of the 1957 City League baseball playoff at Ponce de Leon Park Wednesday.

Stan (The Man) Gann, of course, is "Mr. Hit," and the name fitted like a glove as he peppered Jimmy Daniel for four hits in as many times at bat and ran his streak to 11 safeties in his last official 11 trips.

The stocky junior catcher scored three runs and batted in two. He singled in the first inning, blasted a two-run homer over the left-field fence in the second, tripled in the fourth and singled in the seventh—a fair day's work for a leadoff man.

Max Staples, "Mr. Hard to Hit," had visions of a no-hitter until Chick Morgan scratched a blow with one man out in the fifth inning. And eventually he wound up with a three-hitter as Danny Lawson lined a hit to right and Frank Williams scratched another bingle in a two-run seventh frame by Fulton.

John Ferguson, the "Mr. Slug" who hasn't been slugging much lately, played copycat to Gann when he led off the third frame with a home run blast over the left fence. And he encored by singling Gann home with the final Northside tally in the top of the seventh.

Staples won his eighth decision without defeat, fanning six and walking three. Daniel, who mastered almost everyone except Gann and John Ferguson, allowed nine blows, struck out eight and walked two.

Coach Wayman Creel's winners scored one in the first when Rick Madison was conked by a pitch after Gann's single and walks to Mike Thomas and John Ferguson. Jimmy Adams' single and Gann's homer made it 3-0 in the second. Ferguson's round tripper made it 4-0 an inning later. And singles by Gann and Ferguson netted the final tally in the seventh.

Fulton scored twice in the seventh as Lawson singled, Jimmy Brooks lived on Thomas' two-base error and Williams singled.

Barons Bomb Chicks In 11th, 9-8

From Press Dispatches

Birmingham pushed over three runs in the upper 11th inning and cut short a Memphis rally Wednesday to stop the league-leading Chicks, 9-8. In other Southern Assn. games, Chattanooga stopped New Orleans, 6-2, and Nashville went 11 innings to top Mobile, 7-6.

Reliefer Jerry Davie relieved reliefer Tom Van Remmen to secure Birmingham's victory. A two-run double by Sam Miley and an RBI single by Steve Demeter locked it up.

Chattanooga put together a pair of three-run innings to shell New Orleans and loser Jerry Buchanan. Nashville got Bob Kelly his second decision over Mobile in three days with a run in the upper 11th. Kelly had shutout the Bears Monday night.

when you drive on the all new 3-T Nylon CAPTIVE-AIR SAFETY TIRE
by GOODYEAR

Proved by dramatic Boston to New York test! 231 miles on four blown-out tires without a mishap or tire change!

Now you don't have to change a tire along the road. Not you, your wife nor your children!

Only Goodyear has the Captive-Air because only Goodyear has a tire body made with triple-tempered 3-T Nylon Cord. The brawny nylon built-in "spare" carries you safely and comfortably until you can stop and have the tire repaired after a blowout or puncture. This means that the hazards of tire failure in heavy traffic, on super highways, on crowded bridges and in narrow tunnels as well as costly towing and road repairs have all but been eliminated by Goodyear's all Nylon Cord Captive-Air Safety Tire.

Here's how Captive-Air works to save you time and trouble!

Only the air in the outer chamber escapes when the tire is cut, torn, punctured, or blown out.

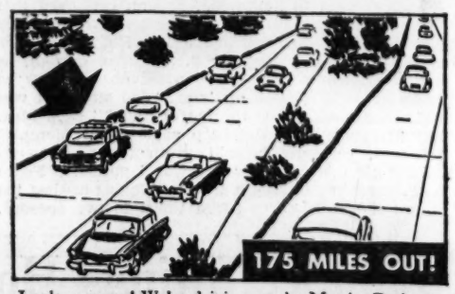

Reserve air in the built-in "spare" lets you drive on for 100 miles or more!

See our demonstration! Ask about our low terms!

A few moments ago, we blew out all four tires with a knife. Now we're moving through Boston's busy Copley Square. This sudden stop-and-start city driving is no tea party for tires . . . and remember, all four of ours have been blown out! But the tough multi-ply nylon "inner tires" take the punishment in stride . . . make us feel certain we'll reach New York without a tire change.

Look at us go! We're driving on the Merritt Parkway now, and when traffic is clear, we step up to the posted speed of 55.

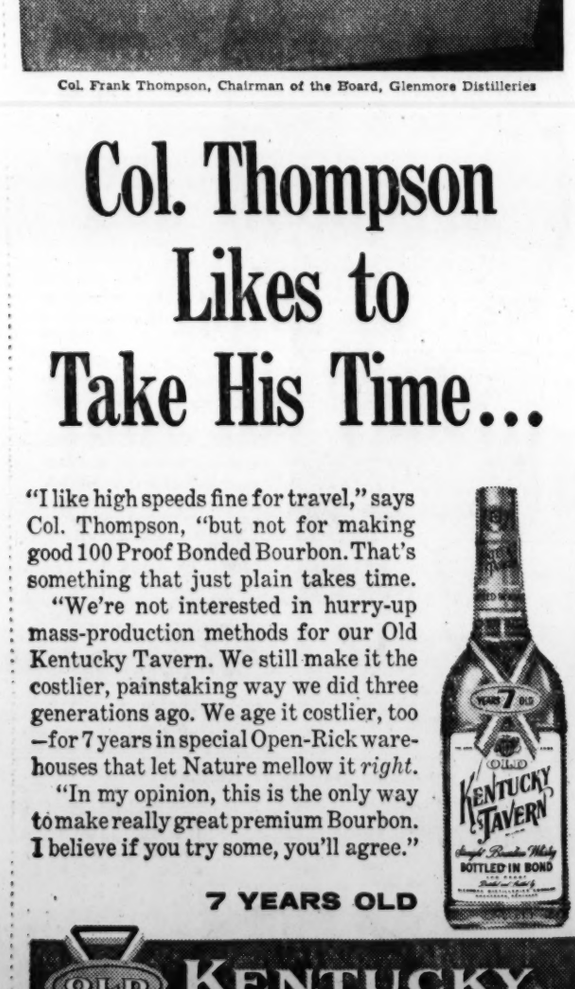

231 Miles Later! In New York's heavy traffic after five hours' driving—with no tire damage other than the knife cuts we made before we started!

Double trade-in allowances for 7 days only!

"I like high speeds fine for travel," says Col. Thompson, "but not for making good 100 Proof Bonded Bourbon. That's something that just plain takes time.

"We're not interested in hurry-up mass-production methods for our Old Kentucky Tavern. We still make it the costlier, painstaking way we did three generations ago. We age it costlier, too—for 7 years in special Open-Rick warehouses that let Nature mellow it right.

Sturdivant Stops A's and Yanks Kick Garver on DeMaestri Boot

Tribe Brings Down Orioles With Three Runs in 16th

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—A couple of walks and some inept fielding in the first inning spoiled a good pitching performance by Ned Garver today and gave the Yankees a 3-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics behind the five-hit pitching of Tom Sturdivant.

All the Yankee runs came in the first inning on only two hits off Garver. Thereafter the Yanks could get only one more off the A's starting pitcher and two off Rip Coleman after Garver was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Sturdivant, who has pitched two shutouts and hasn't allowed an earned run in his last three games, was in command all the way. Today's performance brought his earned run average down to 1.15. He has allowed only 5 runs in 5 starts while winning 2 and losing 2.

Two of the Yankee runs were unearned, due to a throwing error by Joe DeMaestri, the A's shortstop. His high toss put Joe Collins on first. Then Garver walked Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra, filling the bases. Bill Skowron drove in two runs with a hit through short that looked like a routine single but went for a double when the A's left second base uncovered.

Tribe Wins, 11-8

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP) — Cleveland scored three runs in the 16th inning of a thriller tonight, defeating Baltimore 11-8 in a 4½-hour marathon which saw 11 pitchers in the game.

Rocky Colavito drove in Gene Woodling with the tie-breaking run in the 16th and the Indians added two more on singles by Chico Carrasquel and George Strickland to hold their long-time jinx over the Orioles.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Macon Gets Karl Spooner; Touchberry Goes to Reds

From Press Dispatches

The Brooklyn Dodgers sold pitcher Karl Spooner to their South Atlantic League farm club, Macon, Wednesday. The move brought the Dodgers' roster to 26, including service returnee Johnny Podres.

Spooner, troubled by calcium deposits in his left shoulder, had been one of the Brooks' most promising hurlers. But his arm ailment curtailed his play most of 1956, and his major league comeback attempt apparently has been thwarted for this season.

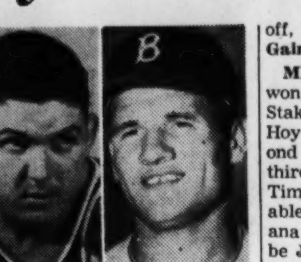

Elsewhere in the majors, cutdown time found the clubs busy. Baltimore recalled pitcher Art Ceccarelli, and asked waivers on catcher Tommy Patton.

The Yankees reduced their squad by sending infielder Woody Held to Denver (American Assn.) Meanwhile, Washington optioned outfielder Neil Chrisley to Indianapolis of the same league. And the Chattanooga Lookouts obtained outfielder Dick DiTusa, in a followup of the Chrisley deal.

The Senators also purchased outfielder Bob Usher from Cleveland, sold pitcher Dick Brodowski and outfielder Dick Tettelbach to the Indians' San Diego farm club. Pitcher Garland Shiflett, rookie right-hander, was optioned to the Senators' farm club at Charlotte in the Sally League.

Cincinnati asked waivers on utility infielder Rocky Bridges, and the New York Giants optioned left-hander Pete Burnside, former Nashville Vol, to Minneapolis (American Assn.) Boston optioned catcher Heywood Sullivan to Miami (International).

MORE BASEBALL—The courts declared "baseball day." Civil Judge Robert W. Landry ruled in Milwaukee that the Braves could be held liable for injuries a 71-year-old woman suffered when she was knocked down and injured by fans scrambling for a foul ball. She had sued for $9,500. . . . And in Columbia, S.C., cafe owner J. Olin Neeley, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill Columbia Gems' general manager Bill Herring, was ordered for trial in state circuit court . . . On another front, the vice-chairman of the "Keep the Dodgers in Brooklyn Committee" blamed "political maneuvering and indecision by politicians" for the Bums' wish to move Los Angeles, and absolved Brooklyn president Walter O'Malley . . . A set of exercises similiar to "burleycue dancing" has been prescribed for Cincinnati first baseman Ted Kluszewski, instead of an operation. Cincinnati signed pitcher Burt Touchberry, former University of Florida star and Constitution All-SEC pick, to a Savannah (Sally) contract. He had an earned run average of 0.80 in 1957 with Florida, though losing two . . .Mrs. Anne Score, mother of injured Cleveland pitcher Herb Score, described her son as "looking fine and feeling fine" after a 45-minute visit with him. However, a hemorrhage covering the central portion of the eye has not cleared sufficiently to allow an examination . . . Pittsburgh manager Bobby Bragan was reported by a Pittsburgh sports writer to have given his players a dressing down between games of a doubleheader with Philadelphia Sunday. "Bragan let it be known he was the boss," the story said. "They say he informed his athletes he didn't care what Joe Brown (general manager) or John Galbreath (president) or Tom Johnson (vice-president) thought." P. S.—The Pirates now have their longest win streak of the season—two games . . . Milwaukee optioned pitcher Bob Trowbridge to Wichita (American Assn.)

Burt Touchberry — Bobby Bragan

BOXING — Holland's former heavyweight champion Pedro Klijssens injured a hand and will be unable to box world light heavyweight champ Archie Moore as scheduled May 25. . . . Heavyweight title-holder Floyd Patterson will defend his title in July at a New York baseball park, according to his manager, Cus D'Amato. No opponent has been named, but the No. 1 contender is Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson. . . . Should welterweight champion Carmen Basilio hold out for more than 17½ per cent of the purse, a proposed "million dollar" bout between Basilio and middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson may never come off, Robinson's manager, George Gainford, said.

MISCELLANY—Willie Hartack won the $24,600 Black-eyed Susan Stakes aboard Pillow Talk. Cain Hoy Stable's Jota Jota was second with Woodlaw, a 35-1 shot, third. . . . The New Orleans Times-Picayune quoted a "reliable source" that the new Louisiana State basketball coach will be Jay McCreary, presently head coach at Muncie (Ind.) Central High School, but LSU officials denied this. . . . Britain's speedboat king, Donald Campbell, selected Lake Canadaigua in upstate New York for a new water speed record try of 250 miles an hour this summer.

Lefty Jack O'Donnell worked the ninth after Mossor went out for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

"It was too bad we had to lose the game," said manager Buddy Bates. "We finally got a well-pitched game, and lost. I thought it was Mossor's finest effort of the season."

CRACKER DIARY: Thursday night in Travelers' Field is Malvern night, when some 500 people from that community 50 miles south of here will roar into town to watch Little Rock in action. They'll bring a band with them, and the Little League will be prominently represented. . . . Third baseman Dick Phillips arrived by plane Wednesday afternoon, and reported his wife was recovering from a strep throat. . . . Slugger Dick Stuart, recently acquired from Hollywood, was still unreported Wednesday. It's not known when he will join the club, but he's expected just any time. . . . And left-hander Chet Nichols probably will join the Crackers here, or during the Memphis series. . . . Phillips took over third, Poochie Hartsfield moved back to short, and Joe Morgan went back to the bench. . . . This park finds no stranger in Chick King. He patrolled center for the Travs in '53.

Manager Buddy Bates and Little Rock trainer Ralph Salvon played a fast round of golf Wednesday morning. Bates had a 72. Salvon was his trained at Wichita last summer. . . . Better Fielding Bureau: Trav pitcher George Brunet was lying flat on his stomach when he threw out Dick Phillips in the fourth. . . . Better Pickoff Bureau: Earl Mossor trapped Spider Wilhelm off first in the third.

We were in no hurry to bottle this Gin

GOOD THINGS cannot be hurried. Before it is bottled, Seagram's Golden Gin goes through an extra step of natural mellowing not used in the manufacture of the usual type of gin. This extra step takes extra time. But what a remarkable difference it makes—a difference you can see and taste.

First of all, this extra time softens the color of Seagram's Gin naturally—from white to subtle gold. But even more important, its taste is mellowed to a rare, wonderful smoothness and appetizing, yet gentle, extra-dryness.

If you like gin drinks you owe it to yourself to have them perfectly made with Seagram's Golden Gin, the gin that's timed to perfection. Seagram-Distillers Company, New York City. 90 Proof, Distilled Dry Gin, Distilled from American Grain.

Big Man From Big Baseball Clan Swinging Biggest Stick in Georgia

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

North Georgia baseball foes of Cleveland High are of the opinion that the old saying, "The bigger they come, the harder they fall," should be amended to read, "The bigger they come, the harder they hit."

Charlie Roberts

They have been influenced to this manner of thinking by 260-pound Ronnie Osborne, first baseman for Cleveland, who probably is the largest player in the state and who probably has the highest batting average. He belted at a .720 clip for the year.

It's no small wonder though. Ronnie doesn't come from run-of-the-mill baseball stock. His grandfather is Atlanta's Tiny Osborne, one-time big league hurler of note who pitched in amateur leagues here for Whittier Mills until he was 52, as I recall.

Ronnie is the son of Pete Osborne, an old pro himself who was well known as one of Atlanta's finest semi-pros and amateurs for years. His uncles include Richard (Bottle), who hurled AAA ball; Clarence, who was with New Orleans among others, and Larry, Birmingham belter who was leading the Southern Assn. in runs batted in and home runs the last time I looked. Larry began his belting at West Fulton here. Ronnie has had a lot of solid baseball men plugging him for our North-South all-star game here June 6. Small wonder.

THE FUNNYBONE—Office cohort Jim Carson, making suggestion for GHSA-Constitution All-Star game: "Why don't you have Bernie Moore throw out the first umpire?"

PREP PRATTLE—Bass' Robert Clem, one of the finest natural hitters here this side of Luke Appling and Nig Newsome, smashed 27 hits in 45 trips for a .600 average, highest ever in the City League. . . . LaFayette's Bobby Cordle waited for the right moment for a no-hitter—after hurling four one-hitters. He beat North Whitfield, 2-0, for the 2-AA subregion crown and bested Jerry O'Donald, who previously had thrown a no-hitter. . . . Coach Owen Harris gave baseball a shot in the arm at College Park this year, fielding the school's finest team in years. . . . Bradwell Institute's Toby Fountain has something of which he can be truly proud. The students dedicated their yearbook to the popular coach. . . . Russell's Jimmy Bonner, one of the state's finest all-round athletes, should give the decathlon a try. In a county meet, he won the 100, 220, both hurdle races, shot put and high jump. . . . Roosevelt's Raymond Leftwich, who finished second to Jordan's Rex Enfinger in the state AAA and all-classifications' meets, will be a great miler before he's done. He's a tenth grader. . . . Bubba Hill may be Grady's football ball-of-fire next year. He scored the only TD in the Knights' spring game. . . . Oswald Bell, Moultrie catcher, won the 1-AAA bat title with a .450 average. James Rogers won in 2-AAA at .404 as Richmond Academy rolled to its 27th straight victory. Lanier's W. L. Shepard rapped 11 hits in his last 17 at bats.

TRACY RIVERS, Omega's great hurler-third-sacker, is hitting .550 with seven homers. Last year he pitched an amateur league triple-header, winning on a no-hitter, three-hitter and one-hitter, according to D. A. Osborn at Tifton. . . . You've heard about J. E. Rowe, fabulous Fitzgerald product, as a brilliant pitcher. But he's probably an even better third-sacker. Made only four errors all year. He's hitting .386. . . . Gordon Richardson, Miller County southpaw, won 16, lost three in two Legion seasons under Dub Flowers. He beat Richmond's great Jack Fisher in the state Legion tourney. . . . Hinesville's Nig Hall, Edison's Bobby Dews plus Omega's Rivers and Lee County catcher Merritt Ranew have been given all-star game nominations by the countless many. . . . Effingham County should do well for several years. Tony Barr, who pitched that 2-A title winner over Swainsboro, 4-2, is a soph. . . . Carlton Lewis' West Point nine won the 4-B title for the fourth time in five years. Lefty Charles Bohannon has a 19-3 record for two years, and frosh David Leverette is 3-0 and batting .350. Undergrads Lee Scroggins and Charlie Williamson are others who did much to write the newest chapter in the West Point success story. Lewis calls Heard County's Harry Davis "by far the best hurler I've seen all year, regardless of classification." . . . Richmond, Valdosta, Cairo, Druid Hills and Northside are the schools with the top over-all athletic records for the year, we suspect. . . . Leave 'em smiling dept.—West Fulton's Lefty Thompson, tired of watching Brown Coach Jack Peek display bald head by taking off his cap when runners were on base, saying puckishly: "Quit giving the steal sign, Jack. You're blinding me."

Betsill's Booming Bat Music In Greater Atlanta Pilot's Ears

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

There always emerges from the camp of every all-star team a "surprise package." In the bailiwick of the Greater Atlanta High School All-Stars, who will tangle with the City Leaguers Friday night at Ponce de Leon Park, it is a 200-pound belter from College Park High named Roy Betsill.

"Betsill really gives that ball a good ride in batting practice," mused manager Bob Smith, wily, one-time big-league hurler. "We hope he can do it in the game. And we believe he can. He batted .354 this year and has power."

Smith and coaches John McPherson and Joe Lattanzi of Stone Mountain and Smyrna, chorused through the rain drops that pelted down on Wednesday's practice session at Piedmont Park that "this has been a squad of many pleasant surprises besides Betsill, too."

"We surely got two fine-looking players from Milton, up in Alpharetta," says Smith. "This Donald Devore really smacks the ball around, and they tell me that in addition to playing first base he's a top-flight pitcher. That Gene Lawson not only hits well but handles himself like a solid glove man in the field. We can use him at third, shortstop or second base, if the occasion arises.

"Dick Shelley from Russell, James Melton from Tucker, Richard Mitchell from Smyrna and Ralph Adams from Avondale all really tear that ball apart with a bat. There are others, too, but those have been exceptionally hot with the stick. Eo has shortstop Ronnie Brown of Smyrna, but I knew he was a great one already."

Smith has decided upon Harry McCleskey, cool-as-ice Smyrna Campbell right-hander, as his starting pitcher for the battle with the Luke Appling, Butch Ward, Jack Peek-handled City All-Stars in the 10th annual Journal-sponsored battle.

"He's good under pressure, and that's what we want out there at the start," grins Smith. "I plan to use that Sam Taylor of Avondale for my late-game stopper. He is fast and has excellent control. That's the combination I want to have in there at the end."

Smith also expressed great satisfaction that Stone Mountain catcher Phil Ashe and Marist pitcher Louis Trumper are on his side as the Greater Atlanta clan goes after its sixth victory in 10 seasons. "That Trumper's only a soph, but he surely has a lot of savvy and stuff already," he intones. "That Ashe—I don't have to talk about him—everybody knows how he can nail that apple."

The city squad will hold its final workout at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at Ponce de Leon if Northside and Fulton complete their City League playoff that early. The Greater Atlantans will follow at 4:30 at the same site.

Russell Trips Dalton To Even 4-AAA Series

McDuffie, Childers Power Wildcats Past Ace Whitfield

By CHARLIE DARRING

Russell's Wildcats, with one strike on them, evened the 4-AAA playoffs at one game apiece Wednesday by dumping Dalton, 9-5, at South Park. Dalton won the opener, 4-2.

The second game of the scheduled double-header was postponed because of rain. The final is slated for Thursday afternoon at 4 at South Park.

Jack Beckham, the Russell ace, was breezing along on a two-hitter until the fifth, when the Catamounts scored four runs without getting a base hit.

Beckham, who usually has excellent control, walked six straight Dalton batters and along with a sacrifice by Oscar Camp, Dalton scored four runs, before lefty Al Phillips was summoned from the bullpen to put out the fire.

Phillips started the sixth inning but also caught the walking fever and passed the first two men. Coach Larry Dodd then brought on first baseman Denzil Lynch, who came through with two innings of fine relief hurling to hold the Catamounts.

Sherrill Whitfield, for the second straight day, started for Dalton and the left-hander, who held a spell over the Wildcats Tuesday, was blasted out in the fourth.

After a single and two walks, Russell's Knox Childers stepped up and laced a Whitfield pitch for a double to send three runs scampering home.

In the fifth the Wildcats scored two more runs off the servings of reliefer James Dills. Al Phillips struck the big blow, a double with a mate aboard. Phillips scored a minute later on an error.

In the sixth Dick Shelley singled and Denny McDuffie blasted a triple to left center to wrap it up for the Wildcats.

Thursday in the final game of the series Russell plans to use either Beckham or Dick Shelley.

Boyd Whips Vaughn in 10

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—Octopus-like Bobby Boyd of Chicago, trying to regain high ranking in the middleweight bracket, tonight won a split 10-round decision over shifty light - punching Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles.

Vaughn, 10th rated middleweight contender, landed plenty of punches in the nationally televised and broadcast bout in Chicago Stadium, but lacked the power to get Boyd into trouble.

Boyd, once the No. 2 contender and now No. 8, also failed to show the kayo punch in his right that accounted for 22 knockouts before Joey Giardello smashed him to a fifth-round defeat eight months ago and broke his jaw in the process.

GOLF NOTES

Collins Asks Early Entry For Open

By BERT PRATHER

E. R. (Red) Collins, hard-working president of Atlanta Golf Assn., asks all players planning to play in the Atlanta Open, starting Monday at Capital City, to get their entries in ahead of Saturday's deadline.

Entries may be turned in to any local pro.

Following Monday's first round in this 54-hole stroke play tournament, play will move to Standard Town and Country Club Tuesday. The field will take a break Wednesday and then move to Druid Hills Golf Club Tuesday for the 18-hole finale.

Elmer Reed, unattached pro, is defending champion.

Qualifying for the 31st annual Cedartown Open Invitational winds up Friday at the Cedartown American Legion course. Low 16 and ties will play in the 54-hole stroke play championship flight Saturday and Sunday. There will be 14 other flights.

Jim Nolan To Return To Moultrie Cage Post

By MICKEY LOGUE

Big Jim Nolan, one of the finest all-around athletes ever to play for Georgia Tech, will do an encore as head boys basketball coach at Moultrie High next season, The Constitution learned Wednesday.

He will continue in his position as Colquitt County recreation director.

Clyde Little, a Georgia Teachers College graduate, will tutor the girls' team and B-team. He has been at Moultrie one season, serving as B-team chief in 1957.

Prior to rejoining his Tech alma mater in 1955, Nolan spent four highly successful seasons coaching at Moultrie. He helped build strong football teams in 1950-51-52.

Two of his basketball players are now in college ball, Jim Herring at Furman and Eddie Moncrief at Clemson.

Nolan's Moultrie girls' team won state championships in 1954 and 1955.

More recently the tall former Lanier High great served as freshman basketball coach at Tech. Despite losing three key players in mid season, his 1957 team concluded a good campaign and was one of the best-drilled freshman clubs in the conference.

Nolan was an 11-letter man at Tech and an outstanding leader and student.

In addition to his recreation and basketball posts, Nolan has been named president of the Moultrie Little Leagues. He succeeds Martin Allman as basketball coach.

New Car Sales Zip Toward 1955 Top

By JIM MONTGOMERY

Georgia's 727 new-car dealers roared through the first quarter of 1957 at a pace that could make this year second only to 1955 in total volume.

State registrations numbered 30,332 from January through March, according to this week's Automotive News.

Based on new-car sales trends over the past 10 years, the franchised dealers account for between 21 and 24 per cent of their annual volume in this three-month period.

Jim Montgomery

There's no certainty that this will hold true in 1957.

But if it should, new-car registrations in Georgia this year would climb close to the 135,000 mark.

That would be mighty close to the 139,382 new models that found their way to homes in the state two years ago, when the auto industry set a new record nationally by breaking through the not-too-long-ago "impossible" seven-million unit barrier.

The previous record of 6,326,438 was set in 1950, still the second best year for the nation as a whole.

Last year's 5,955,248 brought the United States its third best year.

But Georgia has been setting its own pace.

For in 1956, new-car registrations here totaled 121,633, which was second only to 1955 and more than 7,500 ahead of 1950.

This indicates that Georgia is making good progress in upgrading its over-all economy, though it still has a long, uphill road to travel.

Last year, for the first time, Georgia new-car registrations accounted for more than 2 per cent (2.04) of the national total. Now second only to Florida in the Southeast in this respect, Georgia has for the past two years remained ahead of North Carolina, which had been second in the region for many years.

Today, selling 120,000 to 140,000 new models a year in this state is becoming fairly normal.

Yet a decade ago, a prediction of this kind of volume would have been called fantastic, for in the late '40s anything above 60,000 was considered good.

As a matter of fact, the 100,000 level was topped only once (in 1950) before 1955.

Ford Stays Ahead of Chevy

The industry trade paper's tabulation of new-car registrations in the first three months of 1957 shows that Ford is retaining the lead it took from Chevrolet (9,008 to 8,615) at the start of the year.

Also in Georgia, Plymouth is holding onto the third spot it took from Buick by a margin of 2,354 to 2,085.

Next in order, both last year and this, come Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Mercury and Dodge, all with January-March totals in excess of 1,000.

Of the remaining makes, Chrysler leads with 401 registrations, and is followed in order by DeSoto, Studebaker, Rambler, Lincoln, Imperial, Nash, Metropolitan, Packard, Hudson and Continental.

Foreign Cars Make Inroads

The figures also give an indication of the inroads foreign makes have made on the American automotive market.

Their total of 387 in Georgia in the first quarter of this year exceeded the volume of each of two U.S. manufacturers—American Motors with 279 and Studebaker-Packard with 242.

And California, the hotbed of foreign car enthusiasm in this country, registered more such models during this period (10,079) than the best-selling American car (Ford) could do in Georgia.

Tallapoosa Dedicates New Plant

Community Push Won Rubber Firm

TALLAPOOSA, May 15 (AP)—A valuable new addition to Georgia's industrial economy was dedicated Wednesday with the prospect of future expansion as the result of community enterprise and cooperation.

It is a new 25,000-square-foot plant of Pequanoc Rubber Co. for the production of insulation materials for electrical wire manufacturers.

The new industry resulted from the efforts of Tallapoosa Boosters, Inc., who formed the Tallapoosa Realty Corp. to build the plant for lease to Pequanoc.

Their enterprise drew warm praise from J. J. McDonough, president of Georgia Power Co., in the dedication speech. McDonough said the cooperation of the Tallapoosa boosters had great value not only in providing quarters for the industry but also is fostering a friendly environment.

As an indication of what this might mean, he pointed out that th company already has acquired 100 acres adjacent to the plant for future expansion. Future growth, he noted, is encouraged by a friendly, neighborly atmosphere.

Tallapoosa, in west Haralson County, is less than 60 miles from Atlanta.

Among top flight industrialist present for the dedication were Victor T. Norton, president of American Hard Rubber Co.; Harold J. Walter, president, and other officials of Bachmann Uxbridge Worsted Corp. of New York.

Pequanoc is a subsidiary of American Hard Rubber and Bachmann Uxbridge, which operates textile mills in Cedartown and Macon, is to merge with American Hard Rubber and Wardell Corp. of Detroit as soon as stockholders give approval.

B. E. Pollak is executive vice president of Pequanoc; F. E. Traflet, vice president and sales research director; H. W. Chaudoin, secretary and treasurer; R. J. Love, factory manager, and S. S. Rogers, Tallapoosa plant manager. All attended the dedication.

Textile Imports Curb Pushed in New England

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The New England Governors' Textile Committee today urged the region's congressional delegations to back steps to curb textile imports.

The committee, headed by Harvard economist Seymour Harris and embracing industry and labor representatives, discussed the textile industry problems at a capitol breakfast meeting attended by New England Senate and House members.

Harris, supported by William F. Sullivan, secretary of the Northern Textile Assn., and J. William Belanger, vice president of the New England division of the Textile Workers Union of America AFL-CIO, told the congressional delegations:

WOOLEN IMPORTS

In six or seven years the domestic industry has lost more than half its spindles. The losses have been especially large in New England. Great increases in imports of woolen and worsteds have contributed substantially to the New England industry's decline as well as increased competition from the South and the rise in the price of raw wool.

Sullivan said the recently negotiated limitation on cotton textile imports from Japan is working very well but that greater effort must be made to check mounting imports of woolen-worsted fabrics, especially in certain classes, and that ways must be found to eliminate the two-price system on raw cotton and raw wool.

The committee members said the Geneva reservation on woolen-worsted textile imports was invoked last year under which higher duties are applied when imports reach five per cent of domestic production.

FINER GRADES

They reported, however, that imports are being concentrated in some of the finer grades—up to 65 per cent of domestic production—to the detriment of many New England textile communities. They urged that woolen fabric imports be broken down into classifications and the Geneva reservation be applied in that manner.

Congressional members were told that sales of government-owned surplus cotton abroad at world prices, while domestic producers must pay support prices for their raw materials, amount to a subsidy to foreign manufacturers who compete in the American market.

The committee urged that some means be found whereby this two-price system of raw cotton may be eliminated. Rep. McIntire (R-Me), said the commodity credit law prohibits sale of surplus cotton on the domestic market below government support prices and that legislation would be needed to change the situation.

Harris agreed to submit a study of the cost of changing the law and to draft legislation.

To eliminate the two-price system on raw wool the committee suggested removal of tariffs on wool fiber imports.

ASK SUPPORT OF BILL

Belanger suggested united New England congressional backing of a bill by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me) and McIntire which would permit sale of raw cotton to domestic producers at or below world prices when the finished product is for export only. He said this would promote textile exports and give the industry a needed lift.

John Edelman, TWUA legislative counsel, urged that the congressional group put pressure on the State Department to "use more realistic statistics" in calculating the effect of textile imports on domestic industry.

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass) agreed that the harmful effect of imports was not so much in their volume or value but the fact that their low price became the market price, depressing the entire industry production.

Cleo Craig Resigns as AT&T Head

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Cleo F. Craig, former president and currently board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., decided today to call an end to his active career of 44 years with the world's biggest public utility.

Cleo F. Craig

Craig, 64, will retire as chairman of the board of directors on May 31. He will continue, however, as a director and member of the executive committee.

Craig's decision to resign was a voluntary one. He will not reach the mandatory retirement age of 65 until next April 6.

He was president of AT&T, which operates four-fifths of the nation's telephones through its Bell System, during five years of its greatest growth. The company, with assets of nearly 16¼ billion dollars, is the biggest private enterprise in the world.

Craig has been chairman of the board since last Sept. 19 when he hand-picked his successor as president and chief executive officer, Frederick R. Kappel.

A company spokesman said today that on Kappel's election it was felt desirable to have a reasonable period of transition so the vacant post of board chairman was revived. Craig feels and the board agrees, it was stated, that such a period has elapsed and there is no reason now to continue the office of chairman.

Another Maker Increases Price Of House Paint

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15 (AP)—The trend toward higher prices for house paint spread today when another major manufacturer, Devoe & Reynolds, Inc., announced increases averaging 3½ per cent at the dealer level.

The new prices will become effective June 1. Two-coat house paints will be raised 20 cents a gallon and trim and shutter paints 15 cents a gallon. Fifteen-cent increases will also be made on alkyd flats, alkyd semi-gloss and gloss paints, decorative enamels and porch and floor enamels.

State Output Of Machinery Up 62 Pct.

The production of farm machinery in Georgia for out-of-state shipment has increased 62 per cent since World War II.

Most of Georgia's output is concentrated in plows, listers, harrows, rollers, pulverizers and stalk cutters. The state's $5,965,000 production of that type of equipment in 1955 was the nation's sixth largest, trailing Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Texas and California, the analysis showed.

The overall Georgia rise compares with a 50 per cent increase for the South and a 30 per cent reduction for the nation as a whole.

The value of the state's shipments rose during the period from $5,148,000 to $8,376,000 annually, according to the Census Bureau report issued Wednesday by Merrill C. Lofton, Atlanta field manager of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The state also produced $706,000 worth of cultivators and weeders, and smaller quantities of planting, seeding and fertilizing machinery.

The regional report, reflecting a rise from $54 million to $81.5 million, also embraced the states of Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Kentucky, the Virginias, Maryland and Delaware.

Synthetic Textiles Fair, Official Reports

PROVIDENCE, R.I., May 15 (AP). Royal Little, chairman of Textron, Inc., told stockholders today that things are looking up in the synthetic fabric segment of the textile industry.

"I feel more optimistic about prospects for synthetic yarn textiles in the 1957 third and fourth quarters than I have felt for several years," he said.

Little said the chief reason for his optimism is the one-day reduction to a five-day work week recently adopted by many large synthetic textile mills.

Woolworth's Sales Spiral 3.9 Per Cent

WATERTOWN, N.Y., May 15 (AP)—Sales of F. W. Woolworth Co. during the first four months of this year amounted to $228,505,055, an increase of 3.93 per cent over $219,872,325 in the same period a year ago, James T. Leftwich, chairman and president, reported today.

Leftwich told the annual stockholders meeting, "All indications point to an ever-increasing growth in the size of our vast family of customers and a constant expansion of their needs.

"Population growth and high national employment and income provide greater opportunity for the company to offer the best in goods and services to the greatest possible number of people in new communities, in shopping centers and on main street."

Leftwich reported that the company has opened 30 new stores so far this year and expects to open a total of 110 during the year. At this time a year ago, Woolworth had opened 15 stores of the 78 launched during 1956. He said the company went into 1957 with a total of 2,101 stores in operation.

"The entire expansion and improvement program will continue to move forward," said Leftwich. He said capital spending during 1957 will run at about the same level as the $39,463,100 last year.

Bell's Fred Turner Selected by Eastern

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Fred J. Turner, Atlanta, and Eastern Air Lines have asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve an interlocking relationship.

Turner, $90,000-a-year chairman of the board of Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., has been proposed by E. V. Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern, as a director of Eastern. Turner is a director of the Fulton National Bank, Atlanta.

The application stated that Southern Bell has no aviation interests and that Turner's proposed affiliation with Eastern therefore would not conflict with CAB regulations.

Sugar Futures

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—World sugar futures moved higher today. The buying mostly represented a continuation of the technical recovery, following the recent market pressure which carried prices down more than one cent a pound from the peak reached late in April.

Domestic futures were quiet. A New York refiner purchased 2,000 tons of Philippines due late May at 6.35 cents a pound delivered, unchanged. In the South, refiners purchased 2,500 tons of Cubas for late May shipment at 6.29 cents a pound delivered at New Orleans and 4,500 tons of Cubas for June shipment at the same price delivered at Savannah. Demand for refined was fair.

Chemicals Lead Bounce to Upside

Average Back Within an Ace Of 1957 High Posted Monday

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—The stock market snapped back to the upside today after only a single day's reaction to the posting of new 1957 highs.

Oils and chemicals were the standouts in the industrial division as the latter accounted for most of the list's improvement on average.

The market was mixed at the start and showed a slight lean to the downside. After a period of quiet adjustment it began to march ahead again. The advance was going great guns in midafternoon but then profit-taking erased many gains and pared others.

WITHIN ACE OF PEAK

The improvement by pivotal issues brought the average back within an ace of its year's high of Monday. The key stocks rose from fractions to around 3 points.

Encouraging background factors were the rise of personal income to another record high in April and news that the national output was at a record annual rate in the first quarter.

Some Wall Streeters said the oils were helped by President Eisenhower's endorsement of the Israeli plan to send a ship through the Suez Canal, combined as it was with his emphatic statement that use of force by Israel would be reprehensible. The President's strong stand against any cut in defense spending was also a possible factor. But there were analysts who saw the market rise as mainly technical in character—a renewal of the advance after a short breathing spell.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $183.50 with the industrials up $1.50 to a new 1957 high, the rails up 10 cents and the utilities unchanged.

OLIN MATHIESON

Olin Mathieson rose ⅞ at 53⅛ on 83,500 shares. This firm drew interest on word it has developed a new chemical that will raise efficiency of jet aircraft fuels and also because it owns 50 per cent of Reaction Motors which is in the rocket field. Reaction has made large gains in over-the-counter trading.

U.S. Hoffman Machinery was up ⅞ at 10¼ on 36,100 shares as it continued to respond to a shift in its top management.

Shading an early gain, Du Pont rose 2 as Wall Street reports plugged the stock. Allied Chemical rose 2⅞ on rumors of new industrial developments within the company.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were lower. U.S. government bonds declined in over-the-counter transactions.

Lint Mixed; Old July Up

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 55 cents a bale lower to 80 cents higher today.

Trade buying in old crop July found offerings light. That delivery gained up to 80 cents a bale at 35.13 cents a pound which was within one point of the seasonal high.

Trade and commission house buying brought small gains in new crop months at the start, but they later weakened as profit-taking increased. Distant October was the weakest delivery on selling by New Orleans interests against purchases of near-by October and December futures.

Washington trade advices said that the final loan on the 1957 cotton crop will not be announced until after the August government crop estimate.

POULTRY

ATLANTA POULTRY (USDA-GDA)

Ready to cook poultry demand continued fairly active on broilers or fryers but only fair on hens. Offerings only barely adequate on fryers but moderate to excessive on hens. Prices to retailers, grade A, ice-packed, mixed sizes, broilers or fryers (small lots) 31-35½c, mostly 32-34c. Hens over 4 lbs. 30-33c, mostly 31-32c; under 4 lbs. 26-30c.

NORTH GEORGIA LIVE POULTRY (USDA-GDA)

Broilers or fryers: Demand good and trading active. Offerings and supplies short of needs in some instances and about adequate in others. In a few instances local offerings were supplemented by receipts from adjoining producing areas. Prices: Broilers or fryers 2½-3¾ lbs. at farms 18-19c; F.O.B. plants 19c. Hens: Offerings ample for light demand. Trading light. Prices: Heavy type at farms 17c; F.O.B. plants 18-18½c, mostly 18c; light type at farms too few to report; F.O.B. plants few 14c.

NEW YORK POULTRY

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—(USDA)—Live poultry: Receipts of fryers and caponettes moderate; pullets and hens light. Trading slow for pullets; moderate for other poultry. Market dull for pullets; steady for balance of offerings. By express: Hens, blacks 6-7 lbs. 25-26; Leghorns 18-20. Pullets, crosses 5 lbs. and up 28-30, few 26. Broilers or fryers, crosses 3-4 lbs. average few 20-23; reds 3-4 lbs. average 26-27; rocks 3-4 lbs. average 24-25, rock cockerels 3-4 lbs. average 20-22. Capponettes, rocks 4½-5 lbs. 24-26; rock pullets 4½-5 lbs. 28-30. 4-4½ lbs. 24-25.

Dressed poultry: Turkeys unsettled; squabs about steady; ducks weak. Turkeys, fresh, ice-packed, fryer-roasters 6-10 lbs. 32-33, young hens 10-14 lbs. 35½-36. Ducks, Long Island, crates fresh ice-packed 24-26.

Naval Stores

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 15 (AP)—(USDA)—Rosin — Trading totaled 898 drums, including 3 carlots at export, sales, f.o.b. plants. WW 8.16, mid-June to 8.17. Export drums, f.a.s., WW 8.38, M 7.35.

Turpentine—Trading quiet.

May Beans Fall 3 Cents

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—May soybeans fell more than 3 cents at times and most wheat futures more than a cent today in general liquidation on the Board of Trade.

Corn also was down rather sharply, while oats showed fractional gains.

Weakness in all May contracts, in which trading will end Tuesday, caused early pressure on the market. Early selling in May wheat reflected trade reports that the government continues to sell wheat for export. New crop contracts fell despite forecasts for moderate to heavy rainfall in the Southwest, which may cause more wheat to fall to the ground.

May soybeans hit a new seasonal low in selling which was inspired partly by weakness in soybean oil and meal, and also by a report that processors had lowered their bids at Illinois country station to $2.31, down 3 cents from the previous day.

Coffee Futures

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Coffee futures were irregular today. The "M" contract was higher. Dealers reported that early sales of mild coffee in the spot market were about one cent a opund under Tuesday's Quotation. The spot market later recovered part of the loss on further roaster inquiry.

"B" futures were irregular. Near months were firm, reflecting a tightness of supplies of Brazilian qualities of coffee eligible for delivery against futures. The latter months sagged on better crop prospects for next season.

Coffee spot Santos No. 4 ex-dock closed at 57 50n. Cost and freight offering include Santos Bourbons 3s at 52.50-55.50n and 5s 51 50-54.50n.

"B" futures closed 24 lower to 90 higher. Sales 133 contracts.

Planning Board Given Improvements Preview

By HERMAN HANCOCK

Members of the joint Atlanta-Fulton County planning board Wednesday got an illustrated briefing on improvements expected from the joint bond issue authorized April 17.

Col. Wyont Bean, planning engineer, and his associates showed maps with traffic and other projected physical improvements after a regular work session at which the group considered 15 petitions.

Board members approved two ordinances proposed by Ald. John A. White, chairman of the aldermanic board's slum clearance committee. One of the measures would define servant's quarters as auxiliary structures. The structures would be without kitchens or cooking facilities. The other would prohibit the board of adjustment from permitting dual dwellings in areas zoned for single families and would limit dwellings to two units in areas zoned for duplexes.

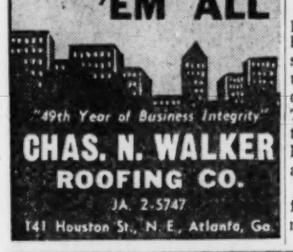

The board turned down two other proposals by White. One would have limited to two bathrooms all structures zoned for single family use and to four bathrooms all dwellings zoned for two families. The other would have empowered the board to reduce or waive the limitations in instances regarded as "unreasonable."

Also adversed were petitions affecting sites on West Lake avenue, near Bankhead avenue, and on Cheshire Bridge road, NE, at Peachtree creek.

Held were petitions affecting sites at Barnett street and Forrest road, NE; Hills avenue and the Seaboard Air Line railroad; Monroe drive, NE, near Wimbledon road, and Cheshire Bridge road, NE, and the Seaboard railroad.

All other petitions were approved.
